About our learning trajectories

In our blended learning trajectory, we combine online learning and face-to-face classes. During the first weeks of your course, you learn through our online learning platform. This phase is self-paced, so you can do this part according to your availability. The online ensures that everyone starts at a similar level before the face-to-face stage, which happens in Ede, the Netherlands. There, our international trainers will guide and mentor your learning process.
