PRESS RELEASE: EXCLUSIVE LAKO SALES REP

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
12/6/2018

Formers International and LAKO TOOL grow partnership.

December 6, 2018, Birmingham, England – Formers International manufactures bespoke forming sets for vertical packaging machines to address the specific needs of food producers, snack packers, and OEMs. Our partnership with LAKO TOOL continues to grow as our UK sales rep, Jed Chamberlain is made an exclusive sales rep for LAKO Tool and Manufacturing.

Jed Chamberlain has over 35 years' experience in manufacturing and the formers industry. With this experience and knowledge Jed and our European team are exclusive reps in the UK and most of Europe. Jed is in the UK and allows for local travel and site visits. Jed knows your needs and can respond to them and be there on-site when you need him. After a site analysis, you tell us which machine needs a new former, refurbishment services and we know exactly what to make.

Formers International created the replacement bag former assembly industry over 40 years ago and has worked with top OEMs and their customers worldwide to innovate and develop patented technologies to better serve the packaging industry. We bring this expertise and experience to our own customers. There's no machine we can't fit. Formers International has developed through years of experience and technological innovation by listening to the needs of our customers and creating bag forming assemblies with durability and safety in mind. We offer a range of products that recognize that not every need is the same.

LAKO TOOL is an international leader in the flexible packaging industry, founded in 1975. Headquartered in the U.S, we have local service teams across the U.S., Mexico, Latin America including Colombia and other local offices, and Europe including Germany and other local offices. Our customers include leaders in the food, consumables, medical, and film industries, as well as original equipment manufacturers. We are proud to provide our customers with long-lasting products, experienced and prompt service, and leading innovations to increase ROI, improve throughput and reduce downtime.
