

Personal Litigation and Dispute Resolution Fees

All initial enquiries are completely free of charge, so please do not hesitate to call us.

No Win No Fee

In suitable cases, we may act on your behalf on a new win no fee basis. This may be by way of conditional fee agreement (CFA) or a Damages Based Agreement (DBA).

Please do not hesitate to call us for further details.

Legal Expenses Insurance

We may be able to act on your behalf pursuant to a legal expenses insurance policy which is often taken out as a part of a home buildings and contents insurance policy.

You have freedom of choice to select the solicitor you would like to instruct. We have extensive experience of acting for clients under all forms of insurance policies. As soon as you become aware of a claim, you must notify your insurance company and advise them that you wish to instruct us to deal with your claim. We shall then be able to liaise with your insurer to ensure you are covered in respect of your dispute.

Fixed Fees / Litigation Costs

We are usually able to agree fixed fees in respect of your personal litigation and dispute resolution matter. Much will depend upon the nature of your claim and the likely duration. Please do not hesitate to call us in order to establish the likely costs. We shall endeavor to work out a budget that will suit you and be proportionate to your case.

Please note that we will usually try and achieve a suitable settlement of your dispute at an early stage either through negotiations or mediation. This is because there are inherent risks with litigation and the losing party often has to pay the winning party's costs. By taking this approach, our clients benefit from a speedy and cost-effective service.