

BUTTERFLY

Caterpillar crawling by
Soon you will be soaring through the sky
A butterfly

Now's the time to learn and grow
You will have your wings before you know
Take it slow

You've just begun to live
Listen to your soul
You're shedding your old skin
And a new life will unfold

Hanging high above the ground
Your chrysalis will keep you safe and sound
Safe and sound

Only when the time is right
Will you emerge to greet the morning light
Sleep tonight

And love your life within
Don't look for it outside
For when you love within
Your spirit will take flight

Little soul with colors bright
Spread your gentle wings into the sky
Butterfly
