

Vocantas Once Again Demonstrates Commitment to Customer Security with PCI DSS 3.1 Compliance

Vocantas' Continued PCI Compliance for All Hosted Solutions Keeps PCI DSS Compliance Costs Out of Customers' Pockets

Ottawa, Ontario - March 8, 2016 - Vocantas announced today that all Vocantas solutions are PCI 3.1 Compliant, affirming the company's dedication to providing all customers with the highest standard of data security in the payment card industry.

PCI Compliance is a key feature of Vocantas' Utilities OnCall™, which accepts as many as 70 000 credit card payments in a single year. Our customers' end users can call into their utility's IVR to make payments knowing they are secure, any time of day or night.

Along with the many evolving requirements, some of the new requirements include additional protections and practices surrounding authentication, as well as alert-generating change detection mechanisms and stricter virus and malware protection. Vocantas is fully compliant with these and all new requirements; as always, Vocantas aims not only to meet, but exceed data security standards to demonstrate our commitment to client-focused security practices and payment card industry leadership.

"For customers whose solutions are hosted in Vocantas' secure environment, PCI Compliance is automatic," said Rob Fryer, Chief Security Officer. "We absorb the upfront and overhead costs and technical effort of PCI compliance so that our customers can rest easy, knowing that with Vocantas, PCI compliance comes out-of-the-box."

Vocantas is strongly committed to shouldering the burden of maintaining payment card and data security across all verticals, ensuring that both customers and end users are protected.
