Automated Shift Fill with Mobile App Open Shift Solution

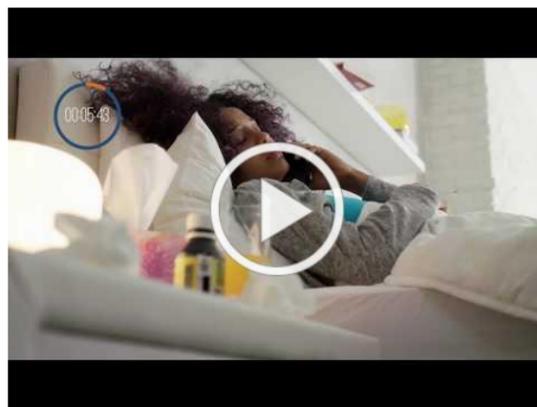

With Automated Shift Fill (ASF), your organization can easily manage the rising demand to efficiently fill open shifts. ASF is able to automatically send out thousands of notifications to employees through various communication methods including, phone, text, email, mobile app and online portal, while following scheduling procedures and union rules. COVID-19 necessitates that in many circumstances people should work in a “protective bubble” to reduce infection rates. ASF helps manage this and takes all the manual effort out of contacting staff, and employees are able to respond through their method of choice to accept or decline open shifts.

WF Self Serve Absent/Late Reporting & Touch-Less Punch In/Out Solution

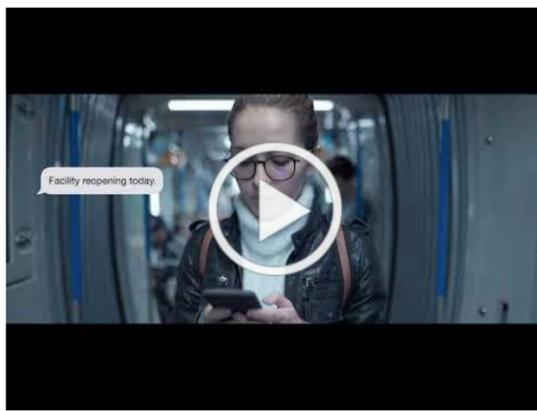

Manual attendance reporting processes require managers to spend valuable time answering phone calls, emails, and picking up unclear voicemail messages while completing paperwork. Automating this process will significantly reduce inaccuracies that lead to employee and union grievances, while also saving organizations time and reducing the spread of harmful viruses.

With WF Self-Serve, your employees can report when they will be late or absent by text or phone. They simply enter their expected date of return to work (even if it is a multi-day absence) or expected time of arrival, if late. Employees can also punch in and out, and transfer job locations via an interactive phone call.

Notifier Mass Notification Solution

The most important time to have access to a fully functioning communication platform is during an emergency. Notifier is a two-way communication platform that allows organizations to immediately notify relevant parties of key information and receive responses from those contacted. COVID-19 requires organizations to have the ability to interact and track their employees. Notifier can ask questions, send important messages and allow a mass communication that can also be responded to by individuals. Inform your visitors to stay away from the facility due to a virus outbreak and/or track and care for your employees or patients with COVID-19. With Notifier your organization can send out information fast to staff, clients, patients, and families.

Surveys

Customizable IVR Calls

Now is the ideal time to gather information and assess how COVID-19 is impacting your organization, clients, staff, partners or partners. Get results in real-time with custom IVR calls to your target audience. Create a COVID-19 survey by working with our staff experts or adapt an existing survey tool designed for mail outs or web.

Using our secure web portal, you can view results and get reports instantly that aggregate the results and show trend analysis. Using interactive voice, get the highest response rates possible and eliminate the wait time for mailing out surveys by post or email.

Use surveys to provide quality service, gain reliable data to pursue new projects and funding, and ensure that clients know you care. Interactive surveys are a great way to connect with your clients and improve your operations based on real feedback.
