

Save the tigers!

Tigers are wonderful animals that are playful, happy and fascinating. Tigers are threatened by poachers who use the tigers bones for traditional Asian medicine and their skin for clothes and rugs.

The tigers are also threatened by people cutting down the trees and killing their prey. As tiger numbers get smaller, they are more likely to get diseases such as rabies and canine distemper.

Please help raise money for Wildlife Vets International charity who help conservation organisations. Thank you

Freddie age 8