

Registration Information: READ IN FULL

Register for Global Lectures Series X event using the link below from the device you plan to use during the event. (Tablets are not recommended, Google Chrome is the preferred web browser, and iPads are not compatible with this platform.) The Remo platform recognizes your email address as well as the device; we recommend no one else executes your registration for you for this reason. For example, if you plan to attend from your computer, do not register for the event from your cell phone. And vice versa.

Registration Link: bit.ly/EPIcenterGLSX

Click the blue “Save me a Spot” button. Do not click “Speaker Login.”

A pop-up box will appear on the screen; notice the two options based on whether or not you have used the Remo platform before.

Once you have registered for the event, another pop-up box will appear on the screen telling you that your registration is successful. When you click the grey “X” in the top right corner, you will be taking back to the landing page with a message that says, “Join event now”.

You will promptly receive an email informing you that “you are confirmed to attend.” Not seeing the confirmation email? Check your junk and spam folders. The confirmation email will include the link that you will use to enter the event at 4:00 on July 15 2021. (Note: a reminder email will also arrive 15 minutes before the event starts so it will be easy to find the link to join.)

Watch this video to learn more about how Remo works: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=O7hmole9Yxo>
Please note this video is 6 minutes long