

AMS eHub

Climate and Sustainability
Innovation Coordinator

Climate and Sustainability Innovation Coordinator

1 About

Entrepreneurship Hub (eHub) is a service provided by your AMS at the University of British Columbia. Our mandate is bringing entrepreneurship education and the entrepreneurial mindset to all students. This means creating a hub for all the happenings around the entrepreneurship space at UBC and Vancouver at large. We develop in-house programming to supplement the entrepreneurship education offered at the university, and we take a hands on approach to helping students launch their ventures. More information on exactly how we do this can be found at: www.amsehub.ca

We launched in January of 2018, and as a relatively new service we want to continue to develop the right away. To make sure we accomplish this, we are searching for a diverse team to share their unique perspectives on the entrepreneurship space while eHub continues to grow. These roles are in no way flushed out perfectly, so the main component of any role is to help define the role and impact the culture here at eHub!

2 Volunteer Responsibilities

- Time commitment of 5hr/week minimum
- Attend Climate Hub and UBC Sustainability Collective meetings as needed
- Identify opportunities for eHub collaboration on sustainability and Climate Hub projects
- Work with eHub to facilitate such support
- Create social media to promote sustainability innovation ideas and projects
- Create sustainability pathway at eHub
- Conduct outreach to raise awareness about the sustainability pathway
- Maintain detailed minutes of meetings

3 Qualifications

- Student at UBC (any faculty/specialization)
- Must be a 2nd year or above
- Previously worked with sustainability groups at UBC recommended
- Excellent oral communication and writing skills
- Experience in managing social media accounts
- Able to attend all meetings that are scheduled