HRJ Consulting provides grants management services to the Anonymous Donors who have a vision of people in communities being healthy, educated and economically self-sufficient. The core of this work includes: understanding the needs within communities; investigating and analyzing grant applications; conducting thorough due diligence; recommending projects from high-performing organizations that best fit the Donors' priorities and are likely to deliver strong, measurable results. The goal is to conduct a seamless and professional charitable giving program for the Donors across Western Canada and the Midwest United States.

The Donors wish to conduct their charitable giving anonymously. As such, confidentiality with respect to the identity of the Donors and their charitable activity is a key value of our organization. We conduct our business discreetly while safeguarding the identity and anonymity of the Donors we represent.

Further information regarding the application process can be found on the website.

Restrictions: Examples of requests not supported by the Donors:

- programs and services relating to the fine arts/performing arts
- efforts operating in public systems that do not allow choice
- political campaigns or candidates
- legislative lobbying efforts
- projects that exclusively serve religious purposes
- efforts that focus on international issues or propose to use grant funds outside North America
