

JAMI MACARTY

By Virtue of And

Honey given : Honey taken By virtue of and we divide and separate: branching into palo verde: green stick tree precipitating yellow blossoms: green tree, yellow blossoms: a mind sticks on certain images, certain colors: phone's ringing interrupts: it's the neighbor again she wishes: someone would do something about the bees: yellow blossoms delicate, fluted: all the wind they need blows: the blossoms let go so easily: falling one at a time: it's impossible to determine the moment of separation: descent a small scheme in the wind's master plan.
