MICHAEL HURLEY

His father

broke the legs off an antique telephone table
to make a Ouija board in the basement.

He carved each letter
carefully.

Told me
To pluralize Jesus,

one must know
what he is getting into.

Curled rinds
sprang from the cold beak
of his claw hammer.

Even to sin he said
is a matter of faith.