

PROGRAMME

- 12:00 - 13:00 Registration/Lunch
- 13:00 - 13:55 MiFID II and Market Structure
MiFID II marked the most fundamental change in European market structure in over a decade but is yet to achieve politicians' goal of reviving lit-market trading. This panel will look at what's changed so far and how market participants are dealing with issues like periodic auctions, dark-pool regulations, request-for-quote markets and commission unbundling.
- Speakers:
James Baugh, Head of European Market Structure, Citigroup
Alasdair Haynes, CEO, Aquis
Christoph Hock, Head of Multi-Asset Trading, Union Investment
Dave Howson, COO, Cboe Europe
Tilman Lueder, Head of Securities Unit, European Commission
- Moderator: Anish Puaar, Market Structure Analyst, Europe, Rosenblatt Securities
- 13:55 - 14:25 Q&A Session: Nikhil Rathi, CEO, London Stock Exchange plc
Hear the CEO of the London Stock Exchange Group's UK market talk about the key issues facing the exchange and potential opportunities in Europe and beyond.
- Moderator: Anish Puaar, Market Structure Analyst, Europe, Rosenblatt Securities
- 14:25 - 15:05 Systematic Internalisers – One Year On
It's been a year since a new regime for systematic internalisers burst onto the scene, offering the buy side a means of directly trading with proprietary trading firms and banks. There also have been several challenges under the new rules, particularly around transparency. This session will look at both bank and electronic-liquidity-provider SIs and offer thoughts on how the regime might evolve.
- Speakers:
Ben Coward-Talbott, Head of Electronic Product, EMEA, Goldman Sachs
Jonathan Finney, Director, European Business Development, Citadel Securities
Daniel Mayston, EMEA Head of Electronic Trading and Market Structure, BlackRock
Ben Stephens, Head of Business Development, Instinet Europe
