

WEB DEVELOPER Fulltime Position @TeleClinic

- You want to connect doctors and patients by using the latest technologies?
- You are ready to digitalise the German healthcare market?
- Then TeleClinic might have the perfect opportunity for you!

CONTEXT

E-Health in Germany is a gigantic market, which was kept untouched by insurances and employers for a long time. TeleClinic did the first move and became Germany's leading platform for doctor consultations online. Via partnerships with insurance companies and enterprises access to our platform is covered for more than 2.5 Million Germans, while others pay directly to use our services. This might be your opportunity to revolutionize one of the currently most exciting emerging markets with us!

YOUR RESPONSIBILITIES

As a WebDeveloper you work in our agile team to improve our platform for patients (WebApp: my.teleclinic.com):

- You develop innovative new features for our existing product
- You support our SCRUM team with your well founded input on improvements
- You help maintaining a high quality of our apps by combining user-centered thinking and technical expertise

WHAT WE OFFER

- A highly motivated and international Team with diverse backgrounds
- A bright office in the heart of Munich (next to Theresienwiese)
- Free Coffee, Snacks and regular team events on our rooftop terrace
- Competitive compensation

KEY TECHNOLOGIES

- Fluent in Web Technologies (HTML, SASS, JS)
- Experience with modern JS-Frameworks (preferably Angular)
- Good command of VCSs such as Git

YOUR PROFILE

- You are highly motivated to learn, work, give and take feedback in our agile team
- You have a healthy hands-on / self-learner attitude
- You received an academic degree in a field relevant to your work
- You are fluent in English Language
