

CTO (f/m)

at TeleClinic GmbH in Munich

WHAT WE ARE LOOKING FOR

- We are looking for a CTO (f/m) who directs all developers at TeleClinic to build and maintain a highly scalable, high growth consumer-facing digital health platform
- This position is based in Munich, Germany

YOUR RESPONSIBILITIES

You are responsible for the architecture, planning and delivery of all aspects of the company's technology. You are a key member of the management team and influence the company's strategy and culture.

More in detail your tasks will be:

- Understand and link Business Requirements to Technical Requirements
- As our Overall Architectural Director you own the end to end architecture of our online doctor visit consumer facing platform
- Manage the development of our consumer facing online doctor visit platform consisting of a web (Angular) and mobile applications (iOS, Android) with connectivity to an Python/Django based API
- Manage the SLAs for the operational infrastructure for both consumers and our doctors and the health insurers.
- Develop a deep understanding of the vendor landscape and negotiate with the appropriate existing and new vendors
- Assess current talent, retain and build that talent pool in a high growth division

WHY JOIN TELECLINIC?

- Agile and quick decision-making culture
- A competitive salary
- Individual yearly educational and conference budget
- All the hardware and gadgets you need to be productive
- Great team events

YOUR BACKGROUND

- You are a Fullstack Architect
- Recent leading edge experience and understanding in the latest web development tools & methodologies, (including an understanding of Python, Angular and agile/scrum development, Cloud Hosting)
- +3 years in a leadership position of a technology organization
- Demonstrated ability to scale an organization
- Ability to attract, recruit and integrate new people into the organization
- Ability to interact and work co-operatively with various stakeholders
- Strong communication and presentation skills
- Drive to lead and bring technology advantage to market dominance
- You are able to operate independently and yet operate in the company's culture

Up for the challenge?

Send your CV and certificates to jobs@teleclinic.com

www.teleclinic.com

