- The remedy for a restless soul is the Word of God.
 - Paul's circumstances didn't hinder his calling.
 - He stayed connected to other believers.
 - He was consistent in prayer.
 - He embraced circumstances as new Gospel opportunities.
- Nothing can stop God from growing His church, sharing His truth and engaging the lost.
- Nothing can stop us from growing our faith, sharing His Word and engaging the lost.

DISCUSSION QUESTIONS

1. Reread Psalm 19:7-11. Would you say you have had more of a settled soul or restless soul this past week? What remedy does this passage offer for the restless soul?
2. How have you stayed connected to other believers during this stay at home order? Who is someone that you could call or write to this week to encourage?
3. Paul saw his imprisonment as an opportunity to share the Gospel in a new way. What kind of opportunities has God provided you to serve, encourage or share the Gospel during this time?
4. Pray as a family for the church and other believers you know. After you pray, make a point to call them or send them a message to let them know that you prayed for them today. Pray also for God to show you more opportunities to be on mission with Him during this season at home.
