THY KINGDOM COME, THY WILL BE DONE

2022. 11. 13 -TN

Praise the Lord Almighty! Thank you, King Kyle out there in PA. God bless you all! Wow! There are so many people here! Let's give it up for Tennessee, everybody. Praise God!

Tennessee on the offensive

Tech Team, pull that article up from the Hill.

<https://thehill.com/homenews/state-watch/3729828-tennessee-gop-files-bill-to-ban-drag-performances-in-public-spaces/>

It's amazing because you know in the Midterms, especially in Pennsylvania they cheated like crazy, crazy, crazy. They got Fetterman in! He can't even speak a sentence, but apparently, he beat Oz who is also a WEF (World Economic Forum). Oz was a pretty bad candidate but definitely better than Fetterman. They cheated like crazy; they cheated like INSANE in Pennsylvania. Of course, they have the Philadelphia apparatus and whoever was counting on the Democrats side was able to smash Mastriano. Shapiro's coming and that's bad, very bad.

So, it can be a very sad moment and people want to be sulking because generally we didn't see the big red wave. It's like, "Oh, we didn't see the red wave." Hey, remember? We talked about it many times. We have to have REALISTIC optimism, not unrealistic optimism. And what's very important is that even though we didn't have that red wave, and it was more like a red splash, but what's happening? We can go on the offensive.

That's what Tennessee is doing. This is what's amazing about Tennessee. They're not sulking; they're going on the offensive; Matt Walsh and those guys at the Daily Wire, praise the Lord, especially Matt Walsh. My God! He was on the Joe Rogan Experience by the way this past week.

He's excellent. What is a woman is probably the biggest documentary to hit in years especially from the conservative side. He was on Joe Rogan and this man is now working with the senators and congressmen here in Tennessee. They're passing bills.

Bill #1 <https://tennesseeconservativenews.com/tennessee-bill-to-limit-gender-mutilation-introduced-by-republican-lawmakers/>

Bill #1 is an anti-mutilation bill that will make it illegal in Tennessee to mutilate children. (Applause) Praise the Lord! And also, if the child is mutilated, that child will be able to SUE all those doctors and even his own parents if they're the villains that have brought him to be mutilated and castrated. They are now the villains so they can be targeted and sued by this child who has been mutilated. This is a tremendous, tremendous step for justice in Tennessee. So, already Tennessee is shaping up to be a Promised Land. Now, they have

Bill #3: <https://thehill.com/homenews/state-watch/3729828-tennessee-gop-files-bill-to-ban-drag-performances-in-public-spaces/>

Let's read this together: "Tennessee GOP files bill to ban drag performances in public spaces in front of CHILDREN." Praise God! "Tennessee Senate Majority Leader Jack Johnson, Republican, introducing legislation," they didn't even mention Matt Walsh; he was critical in this. "This will prohibit drag entertainers from performing on public property or private functions where the performance may be viewed by a MINOR." Yes! So, if you're an adult you obviously have free will and you can do this thing, but it can't be in front of children because then you are grooming children.

"Johnson's bill would amend a state law preventing adult-oriented businesses like strip clubs from operating within 1,000 feet of schools, public parks or places of worship." So, you can't have a strip club in front of your school or operating in a freaking park; there's a limit on this. Why? Children may see that. They should not be hypersexualized.

This is what the Senate is doing here as well.

-Bill #1 which is ending childhood mutilation, making it illegal, and criminalizing it.

-Bill #3, which is an anti-grooming bill. This is going to CRIMINALIZE; if you are doing drag shows, grooming children in public spaces, it is a criminal offense.

"Johnson told WKRN-TV in Nashville this week that the bill is designed to prevent drag shows that are sexual in nature." These are grown-up men in women's clown costumes; very explicit sexual clothing and dances and all this kind of thing that women do in strip clubs and they call it cabaret. They're saying that's part of the LGBTQ or whatever community, and that's part of their history. NO! No, no, no! You're grooming children; grooming kids with hypersexualized performances.

"We do have an issue with men dressed as women simulating sex acts in public parks in front of kids." Again, Tennessee is leading the way. Remember a year ago, this was not even on the tables. Already the micro and macro are moving together, and all our prayers, everybody's prayers and all the Jeong Seong devotion is working and God is moving quickly. But look:

"Should the bill advance through Tennessee's Republican-controlled legislature and receive the approval of Gov. Bill Lee (R)," which it will. It's very, very, hopeful; everybody's very hopeful. The Senate majority leaders and the House majority leaders came out and they're 100% in support of the bill. They're actually the ones pushing it, working with Matt Walsh with the anti-mutilation bill, now anti-groomers' bill. So, Bill Lee is probably easily going to sign this.

"first-time offenders would be guilty of a Class A misdemeanor, punishable by jail time of up to a year and a fine of $2,500. Repeat offenders would be charged with a Class E felony, which carries a prison sentence of up to six years and fines totaling up to $3,000." (Applause) Yeah!

Now the millstones are for the pedos. If you raped children, they have to have justice; if you raped kids and there is evidence against you, then the millstones come in. These people are doing dancing performances; they're grooming kids. It's different from raping kids; we have to be clear. There has to be proper justice; you just can't throw everybody in the same basket. They are different crimes.

Johnson, who won reelection in Tuesday's midterms, campaigned on a promise to preserve the conservative values of Tennesseans, including the notion that marriage "must remain the sacred union of one man and one woman." (Applause)

Wow! The blessing of God is falling on Tennessee. Tennessee is leading the country right now. Everybody's sulking, everybody's sad because we did not have a red wave; there's a red splash. And we won the House. That's great so we probably can stop the thermonuclear war. (Applause) New York stepped through; the New Yorkers pulled it through. They won the majority, and because of this victory, now we can probably stop a nuclear war. That's good; that's a big victory. Now, it's harder for them to do a thermonuclear war. Praise God! That's a good step; a step in the right direction.

But in the midst of all this, you have Trump and DeSantis; Trump is attacking or whatever. Look, it's not the time to do that. We did not have the red wave that everybody was promising. No! It's not the time to start smashing one another especially on the Republican side. Yes, there are RINOS; there are bad ones. Smashing those RINOS is good, but smashing DeSantis is not a good idea. Of course, he has ties with different establishment figures. Sebastian Gorka is coming out saying that he's supported by many leftists and Republican RINOS, etc. Fine, okay. But you got to give us a little break, a little breathing room. After all these shenanigans and all this cheating, you don't go right away for the next two years and start attacking one another; that's not wise and it's not discerning.

We have to regroup. The Left has taken over states, so we have to start gathering the patriots again. It's an uphill battle. People in the red states have to now regroup and go on the offensive more firmly, as they are doing in Tennessee; Tennessee again leading the way, even in front of Texas! My gosh! Tennessee is in front of Texas right now in terms of leading the way providentially, in terms of attacking Satan's apparatus. So, Tennessee is leading the way here again, and all the other red states if they won- red states with red power in terms of Republicans in office- well, you have to go on offense. Don't play defense with the Left! Stop playing defense! You got to go on offense and go against Satan's kingdom quickly. As Tennessee does, make those bills; make it a crime to groom children and make it a crime to mutilate children. Tennessee is again leading the way. We're thankful. Again, God is moving with power and with might. Amen!

Micah chapter 4

All right folks let's get to it today! We are in Micah chapter 4. One of the Minor Prophets, same time as Isaiah; he's writing about freedom from the Babylonian captivity. The major power here is Babylon. This passage is very famous; some of you are going to recognize many verses in this scripture. There are many mysterious verses in this particular scripture that normal Christian denominations cannot answer. They're just bamboozled by it. They don't have the Cheon Il Guk Constitution, they don't have the Kingdom Constitution, they don't have True Parents; they don't know True Father yet, so, they can't answer these questions. But we'll see how the CIG Constitution can answer these questions.

The Mountain of the Lord

4 But in the last days it shall come to pass, that the mountain of the house of the LORD shall be established in the top of the mountains, and it shall be exalted above the hills; and people shall flow unto it.

2 And many nations shall come, and say, Come, and let us go up to the mountain of the LORD, and to the house of the God of Jacob; and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths: for the law shall go forth of Zion, and the word of the LORD from Jerusalem.

3 And he shall judge among many people, and rebuke strong nations afar off; and they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruninghooks:

Everybody's heard that one. That's usually a famous one to push pacifism and have a weak disarmed population. That's the scripture that they use like crazy to try to do that; to have weak beta males, and evil alpha females leading - which is bad- and getting rid of the alpha males and the good alpha females.

... nation shall not lift up a sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more.

4 But they shall sit every man under his vine and under his fig tree; and none shall make them afraid: for the mouth of the LORD of hosts hath spoken it.

5 For all people will walk every one in the name of his god, and we will walk in the name of the LORD our God for ever and ever.

That's kind of weird; that's a mystery. See, because most commentaries on this scripture are saying, "Oh woah! This is when Jesus comes back; this is when he rules from Jerusalem and Mount Zion." But what happened in verse 5? It says, "<sup>5</sup>For all people will walk everyone in the name of his god, and we will walk in the name of the LORD." What? The Millennial Kingdom is supposed to come and Jesus is supposed to take over everything. He's supposed to smash everything, he's supposed to be able to bring the Kingdom of God on earth and he's supposed to JUDGE the wicked. He's supposed to judge those that are following all these pagan gods or who are their own gods!!! Oh! Isn't that strange?

See, that's why it's a conundrum; it's a mystery. In the normal Christian denomination, they don't have the Cheon Il Guk Constitution; which does what? Even in the Kingdom of God, freedom of religion is preserved. Why? Because you can't force people to believe in God; it cannot be forced. Are you with me folks? That's why the first human right includes freedom of religion; people cannot be forced to believe in God, to become Christian or even to repent of sins.

But in the dominant culture of the Kingdom, True Father's Kingship line and the Cheon Il Guk Constitution are right there too; the DOMINANT culture of the Kingdom is obviously a Judeo-Christian worldview. And with freedom comes what? The ability to have like an internet system which allows for ideas to be debated and ideas to be thrown out. So, when Christianity is not censored and de-platformed, etc., - which the Left is always trying to do- it's able to show that its view of God has the highest consistency in terms of whether God is a God of love, benevolence, justice etc. It is able to do that through the apologetic tradition.

It does it way more effectively than Islam, way more effective than Buddhism and Hinduism. Both have a big problem with their general metaphysics or cosmology in the different sects of Buddhism, and also, they believe in reincarnation even though there is ABSOLUTELY no proof of it whatsoever. They believe in general things like that, or for example, they don't believe in the beginning of the universe, which of course can be proven by science. You can measure through thermodynamics, how and at what speed the universe is expanding, and that it comes from a singularity, from a point which people call the Big Bang. General religions and traditions have a hard time debating these things and showing them with convincing power. But when we have a FREE society and people are able to interact, well you're going to have atheists debating Muslims, you're going to have atheists debating Buddhists; you're going to have atheists debating Christians.

Christian apologetics

The Christians are coming out. The more science develops, the more ammunition Christians have for their respective arguments. There's a new mathematical argument for God's existence; the Mandelbrot set. https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Mandelbrot\_set. The Mandelbrot set is a new argument for God's existence using just mathematics and it is incredible; it's an incredible argument. It's very complex but very beautiful.

There is freedom and liberty and these leftist crazy people cannot censor Christian voices in apologetics, challenging atheism and what they call "scientism," and materialism, which is another big one. These things always are challenged by the Christian apologists, and as we develop in science the Christian apologetical system has even more ammunition to show that the world is designed. It does not exist by chance and/or probability. Looking at the universe we see that there's clearly a design everywhere, including in our own genetics and our gene set, DNA etc., all packaged 3.4 billion bases; let alone a unique genetic code set in each person. So, these are all proves that there is intelligent design.

You have to understand the larger context: when there's freedom, the Christian worldview wins because it has a long tradition of ENGAGING atheists, ENGAGING the skeptics and in the modern world engaging "scientism" that is the preeminence of science. You saw how that turned out for the world when the preeminence of science and all the priestly white-robe doctors told you, "Get the death job, stay in your home, wear masks and don't ever come out again." You saw how that worked out. We see that scientism leads to a tremendous tyranny and corruption; scientism, the absence of God, and the trust that all things can be understood and realized through science. NO! It cannot be; it always leads to tyranny, always uses exploitation, always leads to government overreach etc.; the building of the archangelic Beast. Amen! We saw that. Nobody needs a proof of that; everybody saw that the last three years, even in Japan and Korea.

God and free will

Any of these principles may have been ethereal to our folks from different countries, but you've now experienced it for three years. You've seen the tyranny that "the science" can do in the context of having freedom in the country. Why? Because God is the same today, yesterday and forever; He is the same. That means in the Garden of Eden, He gave the gift of freedom to His children; He ALLOWED them to have free will, that is to choose God or Satan. And by that free will we can actually have love because you can't FORCE somebody to love you; they have to CHOOSE to love you. Amen!

That's why the free will aspect of Divine Providence is so critically important. We know that God is the same today, yesterday and forever. He's the same One who gave free will in the beginning so He's going to be the same One who gives free will in the end. He's not going to take it away all of a sudden, especially when it's a primary mechanism of love in terms of having His children or people love Him and ask for repentance; it's a primary mechanism. The free will mechanism is a critical mechanism. When He comes back, He's not just going to say, "Get rid of that."

You have all these apocalyptic traditions of Christianity, eschatological traditions that say, “Well, Jesus will come back and every knee will bow and every tongue confess,” quoting Scripture as if there would be no more free will. But when you press ANYONE of them to go deeper into their actual vision of what they see as the Kingdom of God, then not one of them that I know of, will say, “Okay, well God will get rid of free will ENTIRELY.” There are not a lot of traditions that say that, even though they'll use Scripture that seem to HINT at that.

Micah 4: 5-13

Let's get back to the Kingdom. It is interesting because EVEN in the normal Christian denominations, they'll say that this chapter is about Zion and when the Lord returns in Zion, but then they can't deal with this verse:

*<sup>5</sup> For all people will walk, everyone in the name of his god,
“I just don't know; I just don't know what this means.”* Because their assumptions about the millennial kingdom is that Jesus will come and everybody will be forced to obey him and he will reign over them.

<sup>6</sup> In that day, saith the LORD, will I assemble her that halteth, and I will gather her that is driven out, and her that I have afflicted;

<sup>7</sup> And I will make her that halted a remnant, and her that was cast far off a strong nation: and the LORD shall reign over them in mount Zion from henceforth, even for ever.

<sup>10</sup> Be in pain, and labour to bring forth, O daughter of Zion, like a woman in travail: for now shalt thou go forth out of the city, and thou shalt dwell in the field, and thou shalt go even to Babylon; there shalt thou be delivered; there the LORD shall redeem thee from the hand of thine enemies.

Most commentators are saying here, “Well Micah is BLENDING future prophecy with the prophecy of the Babylonian captivity.” That's how they explain these kinds of scriptures. They're saying that Micah is just seeing in the future and he's blending these prophecies together.

13 Arise and thresh, O daughter of Zion: for I will make thine horn iron, and I will make thy hoofs brass: and thou shalt beat in pieces many people: and I will consecrate their gain unto the LORD, and their substance unto the Lord of the whole earth.

That is the end of chapter 4.

3 And he shall judge among many people, and rebuke strong nations afar off; and they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruninghooks:

Now look, what has happened? Once God has come and has conquered, He's now made judgment. He makes judgment among many people, and rebuke strong nations afar off. Now, they usually thought that this time was ushering peace. "Christ will bring a world of peace and there's no need to have weapons anymore, so we're going to beat them into plowshares and we're going to go into agriculture. There's going to be this great world of peace."

That's of course in contrast with verse 5:

5 For all people will walk every one in the name of his god,

They're going to be worshipping their gods and we will be worshipping our God. Whoa! By the way, that's what got us into this mess. Babylon is the other God. All the Baal worship? Another God. Asherah? Another God. That's what gets the people in the mess in the first place. Why doesn't God just get rid of that, just clean it up? Don't have verse 5 in there because that's really mucking things up a lot! Just get rid of that and then make it all peaceful. Make plowshares and everybody's just doing agriculture and farming and everybody's in peace and there's no need for weapons etc.

4 But they shall sit every man under his vine and under his fig tree;

Again, this is interesting sit every man under his vine and under his fig tree, which is also a symbol of what? Private property. The vine and the fig tree are the symbol of the land that is now bearing fruit, and the fruit of the people; the people now are owning the Kingdom. Very interesting.

Freedom of religion in the Kingdom

Let's jump back to verse 3 here.

3 And he shall judge among many people, and rebuke strong nations afar off; and they shall beat their swords into plowshares,

So, when God establishes His Kingdom after having defeated other kingdoms, there may be a time when those other kingdoms will have to disarm. As the new system is being established, as the new constitution is being established, as the enemies are being filtered out, as those people are being prosecuted, there's a transitional period. That can happen with different nations when the Kingdom starts going forth and it starts taking over places. There may be a time in the future when those nations will have to put down their arms which they were using to fight the Kingdom for example. Are you with me folks?

After Abraham Lincoln won the Civil War, all the people in the South who were fighting him had to first be disarmed. He DID include them back in the U.S. Amen! He did, but there was a process. It was not like, "Okay, you guys are fighting me. I beat you and here are all your weapons; fight me again." No, no, no! That's not how it worked. There was a time when they had to put down their arms; they could not fight Abraham Lincoln anymore. He said, "Okay, we've dominated you. We've won. Now you come under our rules." There's of course a debate about whether that was good because then the federal powers expanded. Anyway, that's another thing.

The point here is: in the future when Cheon Il Guk is spreading we may see this. If the Kingdom was actually fighting a nation and defeated it, that nation may have to beat their sword into plowshares for a time, until they're now subsumed up into the Constitution. There may be a process of judgment and jurisprudence that is making them migrate into the Kingdom. Of course, the final goal is having them be free under the Constitution, but there can be neither belligerence nor enemies. The leaders or generals of those kingdoms will be probably imprisoned through a jury et cetera and/or probably executed too, because they were literally killing people in the Kingdom. That kind of reality may also happen.

But see, this is the thing: even with the Cheon Il Guk Kingdom how can you explain this without the Cheon Il Guk Constitution? It's not possible. How can the Millennial Kingdom of Christ be on earth, with Christ taking over and ruling all over the world after challenging all the evil nations, but then he allows them to have their own gods? No, no! That doesn't fly! That does not fly in the normal Christian denominational context. It cannot; it doesn't make any sense.

So, most scholars and all commentators will basically say, "We don't know what that means; we don't know exactly what it means." Well, WE know what it means; we know exactly what it means. God gives liberty. He's not going to FORCE humanity to love or hate Him, but the DOMINANT culture will be Christian. The Kingship line is Judeo-Christian. Are you with me, folks? The dominant sphere of influence is Christian; the Constitution is based on the Judeo-Christian worldview with clear affirmation of the Creator and God and Jesus and True Father, the Messiah. All that stuff is clearly mentioned; that's the larger context of the Kingdom, and why? That's the philosophical, theological starting point from which all these human rights and freedoms come from and are protected by the Constitution. Amen! Are you with me folks?

It's in that larger context where you can have freedom of religion. You can have it but that doesn't mean that the religions won't be debating each other. No, in fact there's going to be a healthy debate and there's going to be a lot of witnessing because people get deceived; people get into this and that religion. When I was younger, I got into Buddhism; until I kind of got to the top of that and I realized, “Woah! Anuttarā-samyak-sambodhi, the highest enlightenment is just relativism. What the heck is that? Are you kidding me? No, that's not where it's at.”

But see, the Christian apologetical tradition can battle these things if it truly has free platforms; unlike Twitter, Facebook where you're constantly being banned and censored - we were kicked off YouTube. But if you have actual free places where you can debate, make your argumentations, and show that childhood mutilation is bad, that child grooming is bad, etc., and you don't get censored, bullied, BANNED, with your whole account CANCELED, then OBVIOUSLY the dialogue leans very heavily towards the Judo Christian worldview. It wins! It wins!

Marriage

Last week we were covering Luke 16. The whole scripture was about repenting and all this kind of thing and then Jesus talked about MARRIAGE, and he said “if you divorce your wife, you're committing adultery; you're an adulterer.” This is interesting because Matt Walsh also talked about marriage with Joe Rogan. Joe Rogan is a big social liberal; he has a lot of gay friends, “Well, how's it harming you? How is it harming you if they want to be together?” And Matt Walsh did not respond, “Well God says in Genesis ....” No! He didn't do that because he knew he was talking to a secular and belligerent audience, so he didn't do that.

What he said was, “Look, if you came down here, and let's say all civilization ended, everything ended and everybody woke up with a social amnesia. That means you couldn't remember what the heck anything was. And if you saw a male and a female together in a union, committed, and they're making babies, you're going to call that something DIFFERENT than if a man and man are together or a woman and a woman are together.” There's something different about the nature of that union of a man and woman that is in its NATURE productive. That means it makes children; it makes the next generation of people. It's nature; it's an institution that makes the next generation of people.

Same with the question: “What is a woman?” What is a woman? “Well, it's how you feel,” or “well, there's a spectrum.” The Left is always trying to give these very poor incoherent arguments, but in the end a woman is a human being who's female, and that female can get pregnant and have babies. It is in the female's nature. Now, you may have aberrations and some women cannot have babies, but that does not attack the NATURE of woman; which is that they can get pregnant and hold the next generation of human beings. It doesn't hurt the nature of it. One woman may not -out of some aberration or whatever- have babies, but that doesn't hurt the NATURE of woman. Does it make sense?

In the same way the NATURE of marriage is not just, “Well, two people love each other and they want to make a legal, a formal commitment.” That is not what marriage is about. The fundamental thing about marriage is that it is productive, it creates children, the next generation and it creates by far the most sociologically STABLE environment for children. Children need to have a daddy and a mommy so they can understand half the population who is male and half the population who is female.

What's the other thing about the NATURE of marriage that has died a lot in the modern Western Christian sphere, even in Catholicism, etc.? What is another part of marriage that has been diminished? ETERNALITY! It's supposed to be FOR EVER. That is the unique part of marriage. It's not like, "Oh, I'm bored with this one; divorce. Let's get another one." You are not involved in marriage then. That's why if you do that, God calls you an adulterer. That means somebody who is committing adultery, fornicating. Why? Because the other nature of marriage is not only that it's productive, but that it's supposed to be ETERNAL. That means this is an eternal commitment before God and you can't break that quickly.

To break it, there has to be really, really, really bad circumstances that Father outlined. For example, if one spouse has committed actual adultery on the other spouse. It's very, very, very bad circumstances. Or one spouse has left faith, that means he or she has turned their back on God and is no longer in the faith and then obviously the person has to move on and get remarried. But what Father also did in the modern feminist world was for people who were barren, he allowed for remarriage. Now, that wasn't recommended at first. Many times, there was the offering child, so somebody could adopt a child. But in marriages where children could not be birthed and the parents upon that circumstance decided to remarry, then Father allowed that. He didn't like it; any time there was a remarriage Father didn't like it. Notice, Father attended almost none of the remarriages, and that's why for example when there's a remarriage in Sanctuary, I do not lead that ceremony because as Father's heir I don't show up at that ceremony. That's done by the local pastor. Are you with me, folks? That is the tradition.

But again, look at that in the scholarly context. What was Father saying? He was saying, "Marriage first has to be productive, and second, it's eternal." Now, people's hearts may change but the nature of marriage does not. Our hearts should be that when we get married it's eternal; it's an eternal commitment; that is another point of marriage.

Dating culture

Now, as the church has become a dating culture in the modern Western World, the dating culture has produced a fornicating culture. Young kids are dating to having sex. This is not allowed in the biblical worldview; NOT allowed AT ALL. This is a terrible, terrible, terrible Satanic deviation from the biblical worldview. Even in the New Testament we see that fornicators will NOT inherit the Kingdom of God; they are seen as sinners amongst the larger sinners' categories like adulterers, etc. Fornication is very bad, and the fact that His church is allowing for fornication to happen is a sin that DEEPLY angers God. I mean the kids are dating, they're having sex; this is not Christian culture. It has never been part of the Christian culture, never. Until the modern period with industrialization when both parents are now working, they're not taking care of the children and they're giving them over to the state. NEVER in the history of Christendom do you see this culture. Never, never, never, never, never, never, never! It doesn't exist. Kids have always been taught to keep their purity till marriage, ALWAYS.

You got these megachurch jitterbug pastors who want to get big churches, and get big, big, money, so they just tell people whatever the heck they want to hear. It's true that Jesus can resolve our sins but we have to also be willing to then transform and be sanctified through him. That means change our habits, commit to him to change our lifestyle. This is very important.

In the modern Western Christian Church where they allow rampant fornication, and kids are engaged in relations before marriage, what does that do on a sociological scientific level? It destroys your ability to hold a marriage together. Studies have shown that one extra sexual partner before marriage- one, just one extra partner- increases your divorce rate by 50 percent. Just having ONE extra partner before marriage and your divorce rate potentiality SKYROCKETS, which is the reason why God tells us, "Don't fornicate!" Because sexuality is preserved for the place of marriage

The fire of absolute sex in marriage

Fire is made in the fireplace; you don't just let the fire jump around in your house and light everything on fire. Amen! There's a proper place for that fire in your house and that's your fireplace, nowhere else. You don't let it jump up on the wall, you don't let it jump up on the dinner table, you don't let it jump up here and there. Same thing with the power of sexuality. It's meant for marriage. It's like a fire. In marriage it becomes productive, powerful; it warms the whole entire atmosphere and environment that the children will grow up in. So, it becomes very powerful if it's in that furnace of marriage. Amen!

If it jumps on the dinner table, on the curtains, if it jumps on this and that, on the couch, on the living room floor now you've got a problem; now you better be running to get your fire extinguishers, and if it gets too big, you'd better be calling 911 for the fire engines to be coming.

That power is preserved for the furnace of marriage, and that's what holds the civilization together. It's the FIRE of what Father called "absolute sex and romance in marriage" IN the fireplace, the furnace of marriage; the beautiful wood burning stove. You have a cabin with a beautiful wood burning stove, you hear the crackling of the fire. You feel the beautiful heat emanating off and warming the whole cabin. That's what marriage should do with a powerful husband and wife.

That's why these young people they're training at a young age to become strong people, protector of people but also preparing for the blessing. Not investing in the things the world FORCES you to invest in; which is what? To become indebted, to become a debt slave; to give your youth to the banker, give your youth to the person you owe money to; to give your youth to that CEO; give your youth to that professor; give your youth to your career, etc. Don't give your youth to your children; don't give your youth to your husband or to your wife! God forbids! Don't do that! Give your youth to these other tangential things which will mean nothing to you when you're older and gray and you've got cancer and diabetes. They'll just become huge burdens.

An encouraging culture in Blessed marriage

God's people should be wise; we should have discernment. We have those skills; we have different training like the Peace Police-Peace Militia training. We learn many skills to unlock our epigenetics, but also, we prepare for marriage, and once we are married, we also train. We're training to become better husbands, better wives, better kings that means leaders in the home, better priests that means religious ministers and preachers of the Gospel in the home as well. That's on the man. We have to step up our game; we can't give that to the woman. The woman is called to be the queen and the evangelist. She has a supporting role in the ministry and of course in evangelism. But the man must stand as the king and the priest; he has to do that responsibility.

It doesn't mean he's perfect, but it doesn't mean the woman should be attacking him for not being at level 10, when maybe he's at level one, two, three or whatever. Don't attack him. Encourage him; pray for him as a good evangelist would do for her minister. Even though he may not be doing it as a profession on the family level, when he's giving effort there, you want to pray for him. You want to thank him, you want to give him positive, positive, positive feedback.

Oh, Lord! I remember in Korea Kim Ga-byung Hoonsa-nim and his wife were telling me some story about the time they started their ministry. They're now in their 70s and they've told this testimony billions of times.

When he started preaching, his wife would have a list of all the things she felt he did wrong in the sermon. That's the worst thing you can do! This man is inexperienced; he's nervous getting in front of all these people. He's got to lead them spiritually which is a heavy burden, a big responsibility! That man, he's not necessarily even a speaker in order yet and he's just a neophyte, he's just beginning. So, he's nervous, he's anxious, he thinks he's terrible. After giving the speech, he's thinking, "Oh, my gosh that was probably the worst speech that people ever heard." And then his wife wants to bring out the list about what he said. Oh Lord!

Now, he took it in love but that is not something we recommend the queens and the wives to do. Don't be like that! Baek Hoonsa-nim, his wife, later realized that was very foolish. In her testimony she said, "I should never have done that because he still holds scars until today." He felt, "I'm not even the one up there speaking, I'm not even the one in front of everybody leading. I'm the backseat quarterback." That's going to be hard to swallow for a man. It's like, "Okay, you want to lead? Go ahead baby! You do it. Let's see how good these men listen to you; let's see how good these people listen to you."

Now, it's a totally different story but in the beginning, she didn't know that; she thought she was helping him by giving constructive criticism. But there's timing on this; maybe give him a day to rest. Maybe the first thing to say could be, "That was a great job! That was a great prayer at the end!" Why not point out the good things he did? Why not do that first? Huh? In her testimony she says that at that young age she didn't realize that she just had her ego involved. But if she was rooting for her husband, now when she looked back, she admitted, "I shouldn't have done that. I didn't know but I was making him more anxious. Instead of worrying about whether the speech was good he was worried about what kind of list I was going to generate." (Laughing)

That's not how you help your husband; you help your husband by encouraging him, right girls? Just like when you're training and you do something hard, you do something tough. Let's say there's this particular girl that you're training with in Jiu-Jitsu. You can never beat her, but you beat her that day and as soon as you beat her you tell your husband, "I came back and I beat her." And he says, "But you should have done this. You should have done this, this, this, this this."

Why didn't he just celebrate with you, just for a second? Wouldn't you want the person on your team to celebrate with you FIRST? Wouldn't you want that person who's supposed to be on your team to first say, "Why don't we celebrate?" That would be wiser. YOU would want that, so why don't you do it for anyone else? It's the same thing: if you want that, then that's what you have to do for your husband when he's trying to become a better minister, when he's trying to become a better leader.

You don't say, "Oh yeah, but you're not doing this and this as good as that minister over there! Oh, you're not doing this and that." No, no, no! HE knows that; he already knows that. He knows he's not at the level of this minister or that minister, or he's not at the oratory power of this or that person. He knows that, but he's working on it. Are you with me folks?

This kind of encouraging culture is very important in our Blessed marriage. This is how we show what? Love and respect; when you encourage your husband after he does something that he pushed himself to do. For example, in some families the husband never prayed. So now he's like, "Well I got to be king and priest. I got to pray for the family. All right so I'm going to pray: 'dear God, the spaghetti here is very nice. Thank you, Lord. Amen!'"

When your husband begins to pray, in your mind you may think, "Man, my three-year-old could have prayed like that." But DON'T SAY that like a foolish person! DON'T SAY that! That's not how you build people up; that's not how you help them, and encourage them to do that which is good. Amen! When he's putting that effort in, then you say, "Every day you pray, I feel that prayers are getting deeper."

Hold your tongue

You don't have to lie or anything but you have to understand the difference between encouraging the person, and just, "Oh, I got to be about truth all the time. That's why I can just speak whatever I want and you're not allowed to speak whatever you want against me. But I can say whatever I want against you." Some people are crazy like this. "I got to be honest with myself. Every time I'm annoyed with you with any little thing, I'm going to spit it down and vomit it on you and you'd better take it. But don't you dare try that on me otherwise you're being abusive." That's how it happens. That's bad; that's not right.

God COMMANDS us. He doesn't call us, He doesn't ask us, He doesn't say, "Please, pretty please." He says, "You SHALL! You shall, you must. You MUST respect your husband; you MUST love your wife." Are you with me, folks? It's not something you have a choice about if you're under God's covenant; we have to actually do it. It doesn't mean we're perfect at it. We may not be perfect at it; we mess up sometimes and that's why we say sorry. That's why we say sorry to God, we say sorry to each other; sometimes we mess up because we have sin. We're not perfect BUT yet we cannot forget the Commandment that we're given, and that is to treat each other with love and respect.

THAT is why you hold your TONGUE! These foolish childish people are talking about, "Oh, I got to say what's on my mind." That's the quickest way to burn relationships by the way. Maybe what's on your mind is not right because maybe you're too emotional right now and you should think about it. When you make a big contract and you sign in a big deal or something like that with your business you have to think about it; you don't just sign it because you feel like it. No, you'd better wait on it and sleep on it, and then in the middle of the night you say, "Whoa! There's a big problem of that contract! I'm glad I didn't sign it!" See, there's reality to that.

So, we don't have to be childish like, "Oh, I'm going to say whatever I want." No, no, that means you're declaring to the world that you'll behave like a three-year-old. A three-year-old goes around saying whatever he or she wants. You are declaring your eternal three-year-old-hood; that's all you're doing. There's no accomplishment in that, there's no moral virtue, there's no victory in that; it's only going to be burning relationships and scarred people all around you. So, don't do that!

No, the Bible says what? The power of life and death is on the tip of the tongue. That's why we're told to control what we say, especially to people we love. We have to really be careful because it can cut deep. We have to have enough trust built up so that when we critique, those things will not be seen as attack. Why? Because you know I'm on your side. You KNOW I'm on your side, so when I give you that criticism it is there to help you, not hurt you, but there has to be a lot of trust built up before that. Amen! Trust didn't just pop because "Hey, okay, we're getting married. Okay, we got the ring on so now we're going to do..." No, that doesn't happen just because of that; it comes by maturity.

The fruit of your relationship with God

That's why young people, you're investing in what? You're investing in your future and the critical relationships that God has given you. Critical relationships, and by the way they're not only relationships that are personal and beneficial to you as individual people and/or families;

they're BENEFICIAL to SOCIETY. The entire political Satanist apparatus is trying to destroy THIS; they're trying to destroy men and women under the covenant of marriage, loving each another, having romance and love and great absolute sex in marriage. All that stuff is there and it's POWERFUL. It's like a big furnace that's warming that whole house. They hate when that flourishes, folks; they hate it.

And on top of that, what does that do? That INSPIRES your KIDS! It gives them an actual role model to see and say, "Hey, I can do like Mom and Dad. I can also create this in MY generation." It gives them CONFIDENCE. It becomes an EVIDENCE; it becomes a PROOF that "I can do this too. Why? Because I have the good leadership of my mom and dad who have ACTUALIZED this and they can help train me as I go forth." They are confident in that relationship.

How is pouring into those relationships a waste of your time? It is the MOST IMPORTANT thing in your LIFE! Literally, aside from your relationship with God. Why? Because all those relationships are ROOTED in your relationship with God. Those are literally the GIFTS of the FRUIT of your relationship with God; marriage and family are LITERALLY the fruit. The LITERAL fruit of your relationship with God is not paying back your mortgage and/or getting this and that degree; that's not the literal fruit of your relationship with God. The LITERAL FRUIT is your covenant of marriage; that means your eternal promise with God and that beautiful fun, fun, fun, powerful, wonderful bond of marriage, and it's also your children. These are literally the FRUIT of your relationship with God; like LITERALLY the fruit.

Sacrificial love

But yet you're told by the world, "Don't invest in these things. Instead, let these fall by the wayside." They brainwashed the sisters into thinking that they can be superwomen. That is, "you can work, raise your kids, have time for yourself and travel the world." You don't have enough time in a day to do that, folks! You have to be real with that; you don't have time for that. If you want to excel at your job, you're going to put in at least nine, ten hours a day. You don't think that's going to wear you down, tire you out, so when you have to put another five, six hours at home into your children, you don't think they're going to be dealing with a subpar underperforming agitated aggravated beat down and tired mommy? Hello! You don't have enough time to do all that stuff; you don't have time to do it well. You can do that subpar, sure, but not well. And there's going to be a cost associated with that; the payment of going after those societal accolades and the ego trips is going to be hard times with your kids in the future. At least the potential for hard times is going to be higher. You have to be realistic with this.

And how come women don't fear the actual biology, that at 30 years old, 90% of your eggs are dead? How come girls are not taught that?

<https://abcnews.go.com/GMA/OnCall/women-fertility-falls-lose-90-percent-eggs-30/story?id=9693015>

That's critical information for you to know in terms of your long-term future planning; critical. By the time you're 40, 97 plus percent of your eggs are dead. "Oh, but I can always acquire them." Acquiring one egg costs upwards of 10 to 20,000 dollars. One egg, and you need about 20 to 30 to 40 to even have a chance; the failure rate being above 85%.

It's unbelievable how brainwashed the modern person is to NOT invest in family, throw away their youth, play, play, play, waste it purposely, learning hedonism and bad habits and broken relationships. Great! What are you going to do now when you're trying to get married? You're going to have hedonism, bad relationships, bad habits. You're going to be terrible to live with, you're going to be unforgiving, you're going to be agitated all the time and you're going to be cheating. Great! How is that going to be for your marriage? You learned BAD HABITS the last twenty years playing around, going to this and that bar and playing around; going to this and that restaurant and having this and that relationship. Oh my gosh! All you've learned is bad habits.

It's like you just learned Tai Chi Chuan and fake martial arts stuff and now you want to come into MMA dojo. You're going to get SLAUGHTERED every day! I don't care how hard you practice Tai Chi Chuan you will get slaughtered when you walk into MMA. I don't care how perfect your Tai Chi Chuan technique is, how beautiful it is, how many years of dedication. They're all BAD habits! You are going to get SLAUGHTERED by amateurs and people with just two or three years of training; slaughtered.

It's the same thing here. If you're learning these terrible bad habits in terms of relationships, why do you think putting on a wedding dress and putting on a ring is going to change anything? No! You're the same person inside. You still have the same failed habits, the same failed relationships, the same failed experiences. You have not performed in benefiting another person. Marriage is not like, "Oh, you know, you're here to make me happy." No! SACRIFICIAL love is the cornerstone of it! Not just, "You're here for my pleasure. You're here to be my slave. You're here to do this and that chore." The core of marriage is Christ's love which is SACRIFICIAL love. That means the ability to be able to go through hardship out of LOVE for somebody. Are you with me? That's a critical cornerstone, critical cornerstone.

That's why the training is so important. Let's give it up for our young people and all the new babies! Let's give it up for all the new babies, everybody! (Applause) Praise God! These babies are so blessed. Why? Because you, young people are hearing about this early. You're already taking parenting classes in the parenting program; you're already training with your wife. You hear about this kind of preaching all the time; especially if you come to the Korean service, you can hear about it a lot, for many hours. We go longer in the Korean service. Is that true? We get into all this kind of stuff. Why? Because these are critical parts of the Kingdom of God.

The Kingdom of God doesn't eradicate sin by force. NO! But it creates flourishing families. It is invested in creating FLOURISHING marriages. It is invested in giving people the power of the Judeo-Christian culture, the power to EXCLUDE GROOMING children and stuff like that, as what Tennessee is doing right now. So, Christians can stand up and make those kinds of laws in their local areas.

Embrace competition

When Father was preaching, he was saying that all the gays have to be put on an island and be separated. In the Kingdom literary that's what happens, because the gays of the Kingdom maybe will be like, "Okay, well we're going to make our own place and we're going to have our own laws." You're free to do that. But the Christians are also free not to let you adopt their children; the Christians are also free not to hire you for their business because it's against their moral principles. You see what I'm saying? And Father would say, "Within one generation of gays living on an island trying to live their life, they would be gone; they would have all disappeared." Why? Because they cannot produce children; they cannot make babies. Why? Because that's not God's design. Are you with me, folks?

So, it's interesting. All those things Father prophesied, in the Cheon Il Guk Constitution, in the Kingdom Constitution that's how it could happen. Christians could exclude gays and those communities from their areas. They could ban the grooming of children; they could ban gay marriage. Oh yeah, they could; sure. Now, the gays could try to set up their own place but how flourishing would that be? Because Christians could choose for example not to go to those restaurants. They're going to have plenty of beautiful Christian restaurants, cafes and shopping malls to go to. Why are you giving your money to people who are diametrically opposed and after your children? You're not going to do that. YOU have the freedom to choose how to use YOUR money that is the fruit of your labor, the sweat of your brow. You see what I'm saying?

So, in the Cheon Il Guk Kingdom, with the power of freedom the check and balance are what? Competition becomes that check and balance. Christians should not be scared of competition; in a culture of liberty, you have competition. That's why instead of being afraid and trying to stifle competition you just up your level. We embrace competition; we want our kids to compete and do well and be strong. We don't want them to get participation prizes and trophies. NO! If you lost this time that's fine. You just learn from it, we fix it up, and next time you go in. You learn great habits.

In the Kingdom Constitution all these things come out; they become more and more discernible more understandable. There is freedom. God does not change His character or nature and He still affords people freedom, but with freedom, the eradication of sin doesn't happen by a court of law. It happens by what? The change of the societal consciousness, the change of the people, and the turning of their hearts.

Tick Tock as weapon

China operates Tick Tock, so when young Chinese kids are watching Tick Tock in China, what do they see? Happy families, marriages, studying hard; this is what the kids see, this kind of Tick Tock. The algorithms are made so that young people see strong families. Then now the Chinese youth wants to get married, the Chinese youth wants to have strong families. There are also algorithms for patriotism. So, they're supposed to be stronger commies; stronger commies with stronger marriages and stronger families than the West who supposedly has God. Are you kidding me? Come on!

Now, you are in America, Tick Tock is played for American kids, so the algorithms kick in and what do you get? You get twerking, you get naked women all over, you get porn, you get this and that. You know what I'm saying? You get DEBAUCHERY, stupid videos, wasteful videos that make people dumbed down and just want to seek the lowest form of entertainment. Are you with me? It dumbs you down. That's the algorithms set up for America. So, Tick Tock literally is becoming a weapon that is brainwashing the youth to become dumber and more sexually licentious. The transgender craziness comes up a lot on Tick Tock, right? I don't have it but anyway you can see it on what people upload. Watching transgenderism or something, they get whacked out, psychologically damaged, crazy.

You're seeing this stuff from a young age and watching it three, four, five, six, seven, eight hours a day. Meanwhile the Chinese kids are hearing about marriage and working hard and being patriotic. Oh, you see, isn't that interesting folks? See how they use that? They use Tick Tock as a weapon to manipulate people. Why? Because they can of course control and censor that; they can use the powers of the algorithms, etc.

In the Kingdom of God, you will still have these kinds of things but you will have a lot of different other types of organizations that are coming forth alerting people about it, educating people about it, creating their own Tick Tocks, creating their own algorithms to support patriotic values; all these kinds of things which more and more companies are trying to do. But it doesn't help when you have the whole Big Pharma, Big Tech apparatus with 15 trillion dollars in Big Pharma alone, and Big Tech is probably bigger; with all that money leaning towards one side which is to make people totally and utterly dependent on the state. That is creating dependence upon the Beast system and the Antichrist system.

The Kingdom Constitution

Now, neither the Antichrist system nor the Cheon Il Guk Constitution system are anarchy. Anarchy is where there is no state. In all of human history anarchy has never succeeded; it has never existed. It's only a utopian ideological picture that people have. Anarchy always descends into tyranny, just as democracy does.

The Kingdom Constitution does have a governance structure, but the people are in control of the local governments. The people have a very small voting pool; when they are voting for Congress for example, it's only 2,100 people. So that person is directly accountable to them; he has to represent them. It doesn't get RID of government, just as God didn't get RID of the archangels in the Garden of Eden. He still had them, had them managing things and they were supposed to even help Adam and Eve grow up into their full potential, become king and queen, priest and evangelist and take over God's Kingdom. So, it doesn't get rid of the archangel, just as God did not get rid of the archangel, but it puts massive chains on the archangel. Are you with me folks? That's why in Scripture we see that Satan is BOUND; he's chained and bound in the pit of hell. He's not able to take over the whole system.

That's why there are all these acts of prohibition in the Kingdom Constitution, such as the banning of the Department of Education. There can be no centralized education; that is banned, it's illegal. There cannot be a monopoly on money supply, so there's no central banking; that is also illegal. No one bank can own more than one percent of the entire market share; things like that. There's the banning of the Department of Environmental Protection which is used for what? To create green zones which then the conglomerates and the billionaires will use for themselves in solar panel factories, in different environmental causes, climate change, etc. But they're making billions of dollars USING the green zones which nobody's supposed to use since they're supposed to be green zones. But of course, billionaires and the leaders of those nations can use them.

In Korea, people said, "Oh, these green zones that they have created are good because we keep all these mountains pure." But we used to always tell them, "NO! These green zones are made so that Samsung and LG can use them." And they have deals with the Chinese. We saw that with the Bundy Ranch where Harry Reid's son had a five-billion-dollar deal with the Chinese in the middle of the desert on BLM (Bureau of Land Management) land, called "green zone land." It's not even green, I understand; it's arid, it's desert but it doesn't matter.

<https://www.breitbart.com/politics/2012/09/04/harry-reid-s-son-representing-chinese-solar-panel-plant-in-5-billion-nevada-deal/> Harry Reid's son had a five billion deal with the Chi-com government. HOW did he access that? No citizen is allowed to access that! Well, that's what the whole purpose of the green zone is. Do you understand?

So, in the Kingdom Constitution green zone is illegal; the PEOPLE will own the land. That's what the Bible is talking about.

Every man shall sit under his vine and under his fig tree. Oh, by the way in the Scripture, the fig tree is also a symbol for the Lord of the Second Advent or the Kingly rule of the Messiah. Amen! So, again it's another sign of the bounty that comes from the rule of the Messiah and that is the Cheon Il Guk Constitution. In the context of the Kingdom Constitution, you can see it's not anarchy; it's limited government, and there are many things that are made illegal, that the government cannot do. They cannot centralize power to themselves; the power is so decentralized that the people have power to fire those government officials at such a small group level, and of course it has more balances of power.

The point is: if you understand the Kingdom Constitution you see how God's Kingdom will spread through the Kingdom Constitution and through liberty, not through tyranny. See, that's the difference; not through tyranny, but it will spread through liberty. Wow! Do you see? That's a totally different thing. The motive of God releasing the Constitution on this earth, is a sign of His love; it's a sign of His trust towards humanity. Amen! It's not a sign of, "Okay, you people are messing things up all the time, creating all sins, so now I'm going to rule over you with an iron fist." No, "I'm actually going to give you the Rod of Iron, I'm actually going to give you freedom and liberty, but I'm going to keep the archangel in chains. I'm not going to allow all these departments that the archangel always builds to brainwash, indoctrinate, poison, divide, conquer and destroy, and separate the union of marriage, the union of family."

NO! In fact, all the families and marriages are also part of what? The decentralized protectorate known as the Peace Police-Peace Militia. EVERYBODY is included in there; EVERYBODY is our brother's keeper. We are called to "love God and love our neighbor", that means protect one another. We don't rely on somebody outsourcing to somebody else. No, we protect one another. That's why our training is so important, that's why carrying is so important, because we train for the purpose of being a good brother's keeper. Amen! We train for the purpose of being a good shepherd, a good protector lion for the home.

(About one brother) He's doing a great job in his parenting training; he's very organized and he's becoming a very good teacher. We may have to make a new class through him, make another group of young kings that we're going to be training up in parenting training, so that you don't make those mistakes down the road when you're raising your boys and girls; it's a critical point.

The Kingdom is amazing. The Kingdom is coming; that's what's so powerful about it. So, even though we didn't win a big red wave, that's okay because in the end we're moving with God's Providence, God's Will. We don't pray every day, "God, let my kingdom come, let my will be done!" No! Every day we pray:

<sup>13</sup> And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil: For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, forever. Amen. (Matthew 6:9-13)

Let us pray!

Pastor Sean's Prayer

Father God, we thank You for this beautiful day. We thank You for Micah chapter 4 today when Prophet Isaiah and Micah are praying over the kingdom of Babylon which is now taking over all of Israel.

But dear God, You showed so many symbols and signs of Your future Kingdom; not that it's against You, not that it changes Your nature from "He who gave free will to now He who gives tyranny." NO! That is a terrible, terrible, eschatological millennial hermeneutic and terrible, terrible unbiblical worldview. We understand that You gave freedom in the beginning and You give freedom in the end.

But it's critical because in Your culture we'll be saturated in the morality of Christ. We will not be only religious seekers who are seeking for religious practice but we'll also be MORAL PEOPLE, like Kierkegaard talked about, and we have to go through the MORAL aspect in order to also fulfill the religious aspect. Whereas many people try to skip the moral aspect and just try to be religious people and fail and are miserable and are terrible people to their own neighbor and terrible people to their own brother and sister. Oh my gosh!

Dear God, that's not the kingdom that we are talking about. No! In Micah chapter 4 we see the beautiful rule of the Kingdom but also, we see it in a decentralized way. We see it in the elevation of the human rights, of private property; we see it in the growing sense of responsibility that Your children have in Your Kingdom. The freedoms that are enshrined and protected in the Constitution do not make us scared that people might leave the faith. NO! In fact, in that place of liberty they will be able to find You more TRULY and more FAITHFULLY. Even though they may have gotten tricked and bamboozled by different ideologies, through SEARCHING for You, they will come to know You in a deeper, more profound way; REALIZING their own sin, REALIZING the limitations of their own personhood, and needing You, Christ, needing You and Your POWER of grace.

Dear God, we want to be in Your presence today. We want to be a country that is not only walking towards You in faith, but also in MORAL; that is now reclaiming the power of MARRIAGE between a man and a woman which is productive, and seeing children as a positive thing once again. The Western world must have this critical worldview otherwise it will destroy its own self, suicide its own self as it is doing right now. The body of Christ around the world and particularly in the West MUST start seeing and protecting CHILDREN as a valuable critical responsibility of a godly man and a godly woman.

At the same time, marriage must be ETERNAL; it must be ETERNAL, and when it is taken out of different circumstances and people walk away from You and it is then broken, let us moan and groan and feel the tremendous PAIN of that in Your heart. Even though You forgive us, NEVER let us take that for granted. ALWAYS enter into marriage with eternity.

This type of MORALITY, dear God, we need to regain as Christians. We must NOT be EASY on those who divorce. It should not be EASY with the pastors and pulpit. It should not be EASY and supportive of people running towards divorce as solutions because such solution tears children APART. It should always be the absolute WORST case scenario, but always, always, always seeking Your Kingdom and Your RIGHTEOUSNESS, which means doing things that we don't like, that means forgiving, that means saying sorry and trying to mend the ways if they can be mended; at least TRY.

Dear God, these are things that the Western world doesn't want to hear! We just want to hear good things about ourselves, and that we're the greatest kingdom on the earth and that we're this and that. No! We are filled with DEBAUCHERY and SIN and IMMORALITY before Your eyes, and we want to REPENT. That means we want to change our mind from those things and see them now as EVIL, and see the things that You love as good. Even though they're hard to do, even though they're hard to fulfill, we want to see those things as good; marriage as good, eternality as good, having children and raising them up to be the next generation of kings and priests, queens and evangelists, good. That's a good thing! Is it easy? No! Is it hard? Yes! But is it good? Yes!

We want to be wise and discerning.

We have to RECLAIM these values as the Christian world.

We have to be HARD on those who go after our children; HARD on those who are grooming and raping children

We have to be TERRIBLE on those people, on those sins.

We must be good judges, which means we must punish evil.

We must get back to these foundational principles, lest we become a relativized weakened down dumbed down civilization buying into EVERYTHING, including this crazy lunacy of the transgenderism and the pedos that is now the next phase.

Dear God, give us strength and wisdom in this critical time. Don't let us be demoralized by the less than great performance in this politics, because in the end YOU are the One that we're following. We're not following politicians or we're not following politics for their sake alone. We are following YOU and Your Providence; we are reaching towards YOU and YOU give us hope. And having that hope and having the joy in our hearts puts us on offense to know that we are working for a Kingdom that cannot perish, that will not be DESTROYED, and that is coming.

So, dear God,

We want to strengthen our MARRIAGES today.

We want to strengthen our relationship with our CHILDREN today.

We want to get out and train today to become better brother's keepers and better neighbors and more competent men and women and more benevolent and just people.

We want to work at the national level too and do these wonderful things that are happening here in Tennessee with the anti-grooming laws and anti-mutilation laws. Unbelievable!

Let them spread, spread, spread, spread over every red state in the beginning and then over the whole country at the end and all over the world. Let it spread, spread, spread, like wildfire with the power of Your Holy Ghost.

We thank You dear God. You're moving POWERFULLY! We have so many things to be excited and exhilarated about, and we LOVE being in the Kingdom of God which exists in our hearts and also exists on PAPER; the Cheon Il Constitution, the final prize that is now given and is shining in front of the world. Liberty, responsibility, strong men and women, strong marriages and family, moral and ethical code, "love God, love your neighbor!"

And with that we want to give You praise, glory and honor today with all the kingship lines gathered here together with the Three Generation Kingship. We praise You. We give You praise and thanksgiving today and we honor You. In Your precious name. Amen! Amen! Aju!
(Applause)

Let's all rise folks; let's all rise and give God the glory today!
