THE COVID-19 INNOVATION INITIATIVE

Gilbert's LLP is proud to launch the COVID-19 Innovation Initiative ("CII") to contribute to the global effort to fight the COVID-19 pandemic.

The CII offers up to $100,000 CAD in in-kind investments by Gilbert's LLP in companies and innovations that address at least one of the CII's core purposes:

1. To suppress the spread of the virus;
2. To deliver or support an effective treatment or cure for the virus; or
3. To restore the proper functioning of the economy.

We believe that the global innovation community can help deliver humanitarian and economic respite from the virus. It is our goal to deploy our experience and expertise to facilitate the rapid deployment of such innovation.

Eligible projects may receive a contribution of up to $10,000 CAD in Gilbert's LLP legal services. The nature and scope of contributions we make through the CII will be tailored to both the innovative entity and the innovation itself. Factors we will consider in structuring our contributions include:

- The size and maturity of the innovative entity;
- The capital requirements of the innovative entity;
- Whether the innovation provides a clear path to sustainment;
- The legal services required to deliver on the innovation;
- Our perception of the social value created by the innovation; and
- Other factors that we may deem relevant to the evaluation of your application.

To apply for the CII, please complete the enclosed intake questionnaire and provide a completed copy to paul@gilbertslaw.ca. We hope to provide a response to your application within two business days.
