WORK EXPERIENCE

User Experience Designer
EQUIIS / flaim - equiis.com / flaim.com
Feb 2019 - Present
Belfast, Northern Ireland

Within EQUIIS I work on their iOS and Android application 'flaim', alongside another UX designer and the development team. As the only designers working on the product our days range from wireframing and prototyping to UI design and user testing through User Brain. We work closely with the development team daily to ensure our ideas are realistic and can be completed within timeframes as well making sure designs are translating correctly into the app.

Digital Creative
Nero Motion - neromotion.co.nz
July 2017 - December 2018
Auckland, New Zealand

At Nero Motion I was able to truly develop my user interface design skills from wireframes to design to prototyping. My role included crafting designs for websites, apps, branding and digital collateral; meeting with, advising and presenting to clients and ensuring project completion from concept to working with developers during the build.

Webmaster
Husk Creative - husk.co.nz
April 2017 - July 2017
Auckland, New Zealand

At Husk I was responsible for all web based projects including; building new websites from templates, maintaining websites, making changes and content updates outside of the client CMS and providing phone/email support to clients. This role helped to advance my project management skills and also gave me a better understanding of website builds.

Digital Designer/Developer
Almond - wearealmond.com
September 2016 - April 2017
Auckland, New Zealand

In this position I was able to upskill and become involved in web development. I was lucky to be able to gain experience with HTML and CSS while still working on branding, illustration and UI/UX based design projects.
