What is a License Block? Literally EVERYTHING you need!

License Blocks are the single purchased item you need to build, test, provision, deploy, manage, maintain, host, scale and assure the continued operation and performance of your web based application! With these License Blocks not only do you get the full suite of Software Development Lifecycle (SDLC), Dev Ops, and Systems Administration Tools, but, you also get unlimited-user licenses, provisioning resources, and the industry's leading Service Level Agreements, all in an easy-to-understand and unlimited use package!

LICENSING + HOSTING + SUPPORT = DONE.

Each Licensing Block includes:

Unlimited User Licensing

Unlimited use licensing of the designated application installations including licensing of the Agility IT Services Platform and Development Tools.

Cloud and/or Private Hosting

A designated number of Processing Units (PUs) which can be used to requisition and provision any available resource type from an available Cloud Hosting vendor or your private cloud, including front end and/or back end server resources, database resources and other cloud or network infrastructure.

Powerful Integrations
