

COMPREHENSION CHECK

Hungry, Hungry Crocodile

DIRECTIONS: After reading Tremotino in Italian, see how much of the story students understood by playing Hungry, Hungry Crocodile.

1. Cut out each strip below and read each statement with students.
2. On the two blank strips, have students write two more statements about the story — one truth and one lie. (For younger students, help them write their statements.)
3. On the next page, play Hungry, Hungry Crocodile. Read each statement. Have students decide if it is true or a lie.
4. If they think it is true, have them put it in the king's pile. If they think it's a lie, feed it to the crocodile!

Sofia could turn hay into gold

The little man had brown curly hair and red pointy shoes.

Sofia guessed the little man's name.

The hatmaker always tells the truth.

The little man's name was Chris.

The king locked Sofia in a room with hay.

Put the true statements in the king's pile. Feed the lies to the crocodile!

It's true!

It's a lie!
