

Privacy Policy

Thank you for visiting our website. We are pleased to share our policy regarding the use of information received here. Your privacy is very important to us. We are committed to protecting your privacy and the security of the information you provide to us.

Information voluntarily provided to us through this site such as email address, name or phone numbers, will be used to provide you news or other information that we believe would be of interest to you. We will not sell or otherwise make available any personally identifiable information to any organization not directly affiliated with us; however, we will comply with legitimate government or legal requests necessary to protect our organization or to comply with law.

We will track you as a site visitor. We analyze traffic to this site and collect data such as the domain names of servers that bring visitors to our site and the search terms that were used to help visitors find our site. We count the number of visitors and track where they go on our site. Such information allows us to find out what areas users visit most frequently and what services they access the most, which enables us to create a better experience for our visitors. This information also used for diagnostic and debugging purposes and to optimize our site's performance. We reserve the right to work with third parties who provide services that we may need such as website hosting, data analysis, email hosting and other administrative and technical services that assist us in maintaining our site.

Our site may contain links to other sites and resources. We are not responsible for the privacy practices or the content of other sites and internet resources.

By using this site, you signify your agreement to our privacy policy stated above. We may update our privacy policy periodically, and we encourage you to review them on a regular basis.

If you have any questions about this policy please contact us at rachel.ebeling@angelbandproject.org.
