

“RECOVERY FOR LIFE” Program

ENTRANCE ASSESSMENT

Milton Rogers, Executive Director, meets with new participants to learn about their life experiences in order to formulate a personal plan of action for recovery. An agreement is reached regarding the best direction for the next 8-10 months. The mission statement and the home rules & requirements of Rogers Home are reviewed during this initial meeting. Each participant receives three books* and helpful accessories for study; “Daily Reflections”, “Twelve Steps and Twelve Traditions”, “The Big Book”, composition notebook and a calendar.

Note: The books remain the property of Rogers Home in the event a participant leaves the program before completing six months.*

HOUSING

Rogers Home offers a safe, comfortable, clean, and peaceful home to empower participants to focus on their personal journey of recovery. Single and double rooms are available. All utilities are included. Each bedroom and the common area are cable TV and internet ready. Participants are encouraged to personalize their space to gain a sense of commitment and belonging.

RECOVERY COACHING

Milton Rogers utilizes his 20+ years of personal sobriety experience to coach each individual every week. Up to two hours of private coaching are provided per person to assist with the “inside stuff” that led to addiction. Time is invested to review the direction and the progress of each recovery effort. Building self-esteem is an important goal of the private sessions. In addition, one night each week is devoted to motivational guidance in a group setting. Communication with Mr. Rogers via phone calls and text messaging are allowed.

CASE MANAGEMENT

Rogers Home considers each participant as an individual with unique needs. Case management deals with the “outside stuff”, meaning issues that come to the individual as a fact of his own life. Notarized proof of residency letters are provided on request. Letters are offered to the Department of Human Services for food vouchers. Progress reports are presented to parole and probation officers. Participants receive personal support and coaching in family matters. A special arrangement with LensCrafters offers free eye exams and eyeglasses. Whatever is needed gets attention and every effort and resource goes into a successful result.

EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES

A history of addiction often means a scrambled work history. Jobs lost, long periods of time without work, and an overall lack of direction are common. Our Director of Life Skills and Milton Rogers formulate a plan of support including a resume review and guidance in a job search. Our vast number of community contacts and business owners enable us to network for a job for those participants that excel in their recovery program.

“LIFE IN SOBRIETY” ACTIVITIES

Participating in fun and interesting activities/current events while sober is invigorating and provides motivation to stay sober. Rogers Home regularly offers group trips to sporting events such as college basketball and Triple A baseball games. Bowling and picnic outings offer an opportunity to enhance social skills. Family members are usually invited to many activities to help renew relationships lost in addiction.

Note: Housing, Recovery Coaching, Case Management, & Employment Opportunities combine together under category of Recovery Program.

ShareRecovery Incentive

Success in “Recovery for Life” includes “giving it away so you can keep it.” We want to encourage you to share your story with another addict upon achieving the 120 Day Milestone of your own recovery program at Rogers Home. Explain to the newcomer the value Rogers Home provides in leading you to a better life. Sharing may save a man’s life!

You can help to improve the overall quality and strength of our program with encouraging words to those in need. Follow this with your personal leadership once the newcomer decides to join us.

ShareRecovery Incentive*: $100 Cash

$100 cash will be paid to you upon the newcomer completing his 30 Meetings in 1st 30 Days.
