The Prayer of the Week

Remember, O Lord, what you have wrought in us and not what we deserve, and, as you have called us to your service, make us worthy of our calling; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen

"Whoever wants to be my disciple must deny themselves and take up their cross daily and follow me. For whoever wants to save their life will lose it, but whoever loses their life for me will save it. What good is it for someone to gain the whole world, and yet lose or forfeit their very self? Whoever is ashamed of me and my words, the Son of Man will be ashamed of them when he comes in his glory and in the glory of the Father and of the holy angels. Lk 9.24

Missionaries to China

Last week Joy and I visited All Saints Jakarta which celebrated 200 years since missionaries from the London Missionary Society established a base in Batavia for evangelising the Chinese. Dozens of missionaries converged on the areas around China from the turn of the 19th century. But this flourishing of missionary effort had its roots in the great Revival of the 18th century.

in 1735 George Whitfield was converted while a student at Oxford. He had joined the Methodist's "Holy Club" and struggled to find faith through self-denial and intense religious devotion. Finally with his health damaged and at the end of his resources God revealed his grace to him. He wrote later, "God was pleased to remove the heavy load, to enable me to lay hold of his dear Son by a living faith, and by giving me the Spirit of adoption, to seal me even to the day of everlasting redemption."

He was ordained by Bishop Benson in Gloucester Cathedral at the age of 21. Whitfield was the great orator of the Revival. His first sermon provoked protests that he had driven fifteen people mad. The bishop's response was that he hoped their madness would not be forgotten before the next Sunday. Whitfield soon began to preach to enormous crowds in the open air.

John Wesley grew up with his younger brother Charles in the rectory at Epworth where his father was rector. John took his BA at Oxford in 1724 and MA in 1727. He was ordained in 1725. He also became part of the "Holy Club"

In 1735 John and Charles went on a controversial and unhappy mission to Georgia. Wesley wrote as he approached England, "I went to America to convert the Indians; but oh! who shall convert me? who, what is he that will deliver me from this evil heart of mischief?"

On the ship home he met some Moravian brethren.. Wesley was searching for real faith. He wrote, "All this time I conversed much with Peter Bohler (one of the Moravian brethren), but I understood him not; least of all when he said, "My brother, my brother, that philosophy of yours much be purged away.". Frustrated that he did not have true faith he resolved to give up preaching till he did. Bohler's advice was, "Preach faith till you have it; and then, because you have it, you will preach faith."

The resolution of his difficulty happened on May 24, 1738. Wesley's account is, "In the evening I went very unwillingly to a society in Aldersgate Street, where one was reading Luther's preface to the Epistle to the Romans. About a quarter before nine, while he was describing the change which God works in the heart through faith in Christ, I felt my heart strangely warmed. I felt I did trust in Christ, Christ alone, for salvation; and an assurance was given me that He had taken away my sins, even mine, and saved me from the law of sin and death."
