

You are wanted exactly the way you are. No more, no less. At Vele, We choose to share stories of women based on their creative prowess and intellect rather than the size of their jeans. And we remind you of this by stamping the message, "You are wanted," inside each and every piece we make.

When you remember that 10% of your Velé purchase supports Not For Sale in their efforts to end human trafficking. 🙌

The Cross-Body Clutch: perfect for your on-the-go lifestyle, and also for stopping to smell the roses along the way.

When a member of your girl gang achieves those dreams, because empowered women empower women.

These are a few of my favorite things...
Have a happy Friday! You deserve it.

So many of the products we consume have exploitation hidden somewhere inside their production. That's why we partnered with Not For Sale to aid their fight to end human trafficking. And why we partner with artisans who treat their craft as art and are paid a living wage that reflects their artistry. Learn more about our friends over at
