

We are recruiting a Medical Writer for our growing Editorial team

We started with a vision. We've stuck to our four key principles: Fresh. Smart. Open. Real. And our strong foundations mean Synergy Vision continues to grow.

That's why we're looking for an intellectually curious Medical Writer with a knack for distilling complex scientific information into accurate, engaging and effective content. The successful candidate will report to the Principal Medical Writer, and will work closely with our Creative, Accounts and Events teams.

At SV, you'll have the opportunity and support to become the best at what you do.

Our Medical Writers have a strong foundation in science, typically with an undergraduate degree in a biological or biomedical science (or a postgraduate degree), as well as some experience and insight in medical communications. If you have a flexible and proactive attitude, with the ability to prioritize and work to tight deadlines while maintaining high quality, we'd love to help you develop your career. As a Medical Writer, you will:

- Prepare high-quality written materials across a range of media, including slides, manuscripts, posters, meeting reports, websites and apps, under supervision and direction of the scientific lead
- Evaluate scientific data and produce clear and accurate materials
- Interact with medical experts in a number of assigned therapeutic areas
- Build and sustain successful client relationships
- Travel to client meetings and events as needed
- Keep abreast of advances and developments in a given therapeutic area
- Build and develop relationships with internal teams and clients, collaborating effectively to deliver projects that add value
- Provide creative and strategic input in meetings and during project development.
