

FAQ

1. What is “Experiential Learning”?

The “Experiential Learning” that Lean Management Academy offers is an active and engaging learning process involving activities, games, and analysis/review.

2. How is it different from the training courses in the market?

Experiential Learning transforms your training and learning experience through rigorous analysis and thought-provoking discussions and the experience develops the learning. The training is not in the setting of classroom where participants listen to lectures and watch videos.

3. Is Experiential Learning targeted at specific workgroup?

The courses and learning methodology are suitable for all levels in the organization. There are no barriers due to age, education, ability, background, or culture.

4. What would be the outcome and benefits from this type of learning?

All participants would benefit from the involvement, and by getting involved he/she is forced to contribute, think and analyse – many new “out-the-box” ideas will emerge – it’s a new experience, feeling of accomplishment.

5. Is your company certified?

Yes. Lean Management Academy is certified by MTa Learning to conduct and implement the Experiential Learning methodology to organizations.

6. Are your programs’ fee claimable from HRDF?

Yes. All our programs’ fee is HRDF claimable.

7. Do you have Public Program training?

Yes. We have Public Program training scheduled. Please go to the link: <https://www.leanacademy.com.my/course-calendar> to see the available dates that suit your plan.

- How many days and participants per session for public program?

2 days per session and as it involves a lot of activities and interaction between participants for:

KanDo Lean, Leadership, Teamwork & Problem Solving:

Min 10 and Max 15 participants per session.

Last Planner® System (LPS)

Min 10 pax and Max 14 participants per session.

8. Do you have In-House training?

Yes. We have In-House

- How many days and participants per session for in-house program?

2 days per session and as it involves a lot of activities and interaction between participants for:

KanDo Lean, Leadership, Teamwork & Problem Solving:

Min 10 and Max 15 participants per session.

Last Planner® System (LPS)

Min 10 pax and Max 14 participants per session.