

ALONZO'S NEWS

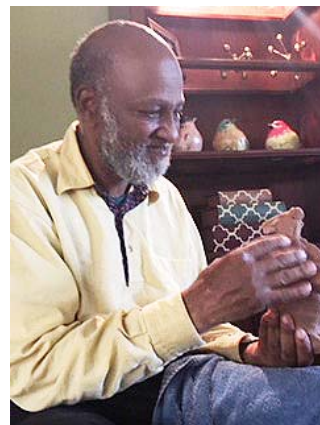

JUNE 13, 2018

Just as Alonzo recently changed his mind about making a dinosaur, he again decided to try something new, a fantasy animal, and made this unicorn. He named him Highway to Heaven.

The response to Alonzo's appearance on the CBS Sunday Morning show is still reverberating! Over 200 people responded within days, many with expressions of admiration and some with inquiries about purchasing his art. In all, about 50 sculptures sold. Many orders are just now coming out of the foundry. We are so thankful for all the great feedback.

Alonzo did a demonstration with his good friend Rob at Brookdale Retirement Community in Boulder, CO. He is seen here creating a bull.
