THE MOVE IS ON!!

A long planned-for transition in Alonzo's life is underway! He will be moving to Denver--perhaps in the spring--to his own house in a neighborhood that includes family and friends. The first step is moving his large collection of uncast sculptures, perhaps 200 to 300 pieces, which represents his work over 30 years or so. Until the shelves get moved, the sculptures are covering the floor--here is a small corner of them.

Not so much time for art lately with moving efforts, but here is the last of a series of acrylic paintings (with some oil pastels added).
