

Michael Williams

Michael Williams was born and raised in West Philadelphia. He graduated from West Philadelphia High School and later enrolled at Cairn University where he received his Bachelor of Science in Bible in 1994. He also received his Masters of Science in Christian Counseling in 2000, also from Cairn University. In 2018 Michael completed a second Masters degree in Clinical and Counseling Psychology with a concentration in Trauma Studies at Chestnut Hill College. Michael has diverse experiences in the field of mental health.

He has done extensive work in substance abuse, both as a caseworker and a therapist in both outpatient and residential settings. Michael has also provided individual, family, and group therapy to adolescent males with substance abuse and co-occurring disorders. He also has significant experience working with males who have sexual behavior problems. Michael specializes in providing therapy to individuals who have experienced trauma in its various forms. In addition to these, he also serves as an Adjunct Professor at Eastern University in St. Davids, PA. and also serves as an Associate Pastor at CareView Community Church located in Lansdowne, PA. Michael currently lives in the greater Philadelphia area with his wife Carla. They have been married since 1994 and are blessed with three sons Anthony, David, and Stephen.