Item 4. Service, Fees, and Compensation

We offer asset management services via our Wrap Fee Program as described in this Wrap Fee Program Brochure. Our wrap fee accounts are managed on an individualized basis according to the client's investment objectives, financial goals, risk tolerance, etc.

Wrap Fee Program

Our Wrap Fee Program provides investment management and investment execution for one all inclusive fee. This program enables you to pursue your investment objectives with us as manager all in one consolidated model portfolio. As part of this service, a portfolio is created that can consist of individual stocks, bonds, exchange traded funds ("ETFs"), options, mutual funds and other public and private securities or investments.

Portfolios will be designed to meet a particular investment goal, determined to be suitable to the client's circumstances. Once the appropriate portfolio has been determined, portfolios are continuously and regularly monitored, and if necessary, rebalanced based upon the client's individual needs, stated goals and objectives. Clients' accounts are managed on a discretionary basis.

Fee Schedule

Investment Management fees are calculated as a percentage of what we manage for you (Assets Under Management or AUM). Our standard Investment Management fee is calculated as follows:

Assets Under Managements (AUM)	Monthly Percentage	Annualized Percentage
First $2,000,000	0.10%	1.20%
Next $2,000,000	0.05%	0.60%
Over $4,000,000	0.025%	0.30%

Example of monthly fee calculation for an account with average daily balance of $3,000,000 for a 30 day month:

$$$2,000,000 \times (1.2\%/365 \text{ days}) \times 30 \text{ days} = $1,972.60$$

 $$1,000,000 \times (0.6\%/365 \text{ days}) \times 30 \text{ days} = $493.15$
 $$2,465.75$

Trading & transaction costs associated with the Account are covered in this fee as part of our Wrap Fee Program.

It should be noted that Vault Wealth's two primary custodians, Schwab & Altruist, have largely eliminated commissions for our most common trades. For example, Schwab has eliminated commissions for online trades of equities, ETFs and options (subject to $0.65 per contract fee). This means that, in most cases, when we buy and sell these types of securities, we will not have to pay any commissions to Schwab. We encourage you to review Schwab's pricing to compare the total costs of entering into a wrap fee arrangement versus a non-wrap fee arrangement. If you choose to enter into a wrap fee arrangement, your total cost to invest could exceed the cost of paying for brokerage and advisory services separately. To see what you would pay for transactions in a non-wrap account please refer to Schwab's most recent pricing schedules available at schwab.com/aspricingguide. Similarly, Altruist's pricing schedule is available at https://altruist.com/m/Altruist-Fee-Schedule.

Despite the availability of these free trades for certain security types, Vault Wealth maintains a wrap program so that when/if situations arise where commissionable trades make sense for clients, the client will not incur any trade/transaction costs beyond our advisory fee.

Fees are negotiable and will be deducted from client account(s) monthly in arrears. Adjustments will be made for deposits and withdrawals during the billing period. Fees will be deducted from your account monthly in arrears (meaning at the end of the month we will charge your account for the fees incurred). The exception for this is directly-managed held-away accounts, such as 401(k)'s, as it is impossible to directly debit the fees from these accounts, those fees will be assigned to the client's taxable account of choice. If the client does not have a taxable account, those fees will be billed directly to the client. Vault will never have custody except for authorized fee withdrawal of any Client funds or securities, as the services of a qualified and independent custodian will be used. In most cases, at least a partial cash balance will be maintained in the Account so that Vault may debit advisory fees for services rendered.

A wrap fee program allows our clients to pay a specified fee for investment advisory services and the execution of transactions. Your fee is bundled with our costs for executing transactions in your account(s). We do not charge our clients higher advisory fees based on their trading activity, but you should be aware that we may have an incentive to limit our trading activities in your account(s) because we are charged for executed trades. By participating in a wrap fee program, you may end up paying more or less than you would through a non-wrap fee program where a lower advisory fee is charged, but trade execution costs are passed directly through to you by the executing broker.

Other Types of Fees and Expenses

You may pay custodial fees, charges imposed directly by a mutual fund, index fund, or exchange traded fund which shall be disclosed in the fund's prospectus (i.e., fund management fees and other fund expenses), mark-ups and mark-downs, spreads paid to market makers, wire transfer fees, fees for trades executed away from custodian, and other fees and taxes on brokerage accounts and securities transactions. These fees are not included within the wrap-fee you are charged by our firm.

Item 5. Types of Clients and Account Requirements

We offer advisory services to Individuals, High Net Worth Individuals, as well as Pension and Profit Sharing Plans.

There is no minimum investment requirement for our Comprehensive Wealth Management service, however, for clients who hire us for Investment Management only we have a $100,000 minimum investment requirement. At its sole discretion, the Firm may wave this minimum requirement. The size of the account will determine such things as custodian selection, the use of a subadvisor, frequency of rebalancing, among other things.

Item 6. Portfolio Manager Selection & Evaluation

Portfolio Managers

Vault Wealth Strategies serves as sponsor and as portfolio manager for the services under this Wrap Fee Program. We may utilize the services of a subadvisor to help implement our strategies and take care of day to day trading and rebalancing activities.

Tailoring of Advisory Services

We offer the same suite of services to all of our clients. However, specific client financial plans and their implementation are dependent upon each client's current situation (income, tax levels, and risk tolerance levels) and is used to construct a client specific plan to aid in the selection of a portfolio that matches restrictions, needs, and targets. Clients may impose restrictions on investing in certain securities or types of securities. However, if the restrictions prevent Vault from properly servicing the client account, or if the restrictions would require Vault to deviate from its standard suite of services, Vault reserves the right to end the relationship.

Participation in Wrap Fee Programs

Our wrap fee accounts are managed on an individualized basis according to the client's investment objectives, financial goals, risk tolerance, etc. Generally, we do not manage wrap fee accounts any differently than if they were not in a wrap fee program; however, certain client accounts may be managed differently based on the size and nature of the account and/or the client's investment objectives and risk tolerance.

Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

Our firm does not charge performance-based fees.

Methods of Analysis

Our method of analysis starts with understanding risk: both at the individual client level and the individual security (investment) level. The whole premise of investing is to get a return on your investment, but investing doesn't come without risk. We build portfolios that aim to optimize the return potential for the amount of risk taken (risk-adjusted returns). Once we help a client quantify the amount of risk they are comfortable taking, we can then align them with an appropriate portfolio.

We are not market timers or short-term traders, and we make no attempt to predict market tops or bottoms (or even market direction for that matter). There are simply too many variables in a complex world to consistently predict market movement. In other words, price is truth. We don't try to replace what markets actually did with guesswork.

While past performance does not guarantee future results, we rely on historical data to inform decision making. By regularly recalculating analytics data on our investment holdings we can provide clients with a range of probable outcomes. A probability range that falls within a client's comfort zone (acceptable downside risk) empowers them to stick with their investment strategy. This is important because staying invested and controlling emotions is imperative to being a successful investor over time.

Investment Strategies

We primarily manage portfolio strategies that consist of mutual funds, ETFs (Exchange Traded Funds), individual stocks and bonds, or some combination of the aforementioned.

When using pooled investment vehicles we may make available certain 'prepackaged' portfolios that follow certain popular approaches familiar to the general public. Examples include, but are not limited to, a "Ramsey Style Mutual Fund Portfolio" or an "All Weather ETF Portfolio".

We also manage our own in-house strategies. These strategies are based on our own experience and research. The objective of our model portfolios is to create baskets of historically uncorrelated assets with a history of asymmetrical (lopsided) risk/reward profiles. We also tend to look for companies that have experienced a full market cycle before, a healthy balance sheet, durable business model, and we like it when a company is still being led by its founder.

On rare occasions based on individual clients' facts and circumstances we may incorporate other investment vehicles such as options, futures, REITs, BDCs, ETNs, etc.

Client portfolios are periodically monitored, and changes to investment positions are made when appropriate. This rebalancing of portfolios is intended to bring the overall portfolio mix into alignment with the clients' Risk Number and/or to recalibrate the model. When making investment decisions, diversification, expenses and taxes are considered along with cash flow needs.

We generally employ a long-term investment strategy for our Clients, as consistent with their financial goals. Vault will typically hold all or a portion of a security for more than a year, but may hold for shorter periods for the purpose of rebalancing a portfolio or meeting the cash needs of Clients. At times, we may also buy and sell positions that are more short-term in nature, depending on the goals of the Client and/or the fundamentals of the security

Investing in securities always involves a risk of loss that the client should be prepared to bear.

Risk Considerations

Company Risk: When investing in securities, such as stocks, there is always a certain level of company or industry specific risk that is inherent in each company or issuer. There is the risk that the company will perform poorly or have its value reduced based on factors specific to the company or its industry. This is also referred to as unsystematic risk and can be reduced or mitigated through appropriate diversification.

Market Risk: The price of a security, bond, or mutual fund may drop in reaction to economic and market events and conditions. These factors may be external and independent of a security's underlying circumstances.

Liquidity Risk: A lack of demand in the marketplace may result in the inability to sell some or all investments promptly, or only be able to sell at less than desired prices.

Credit Risk: Debt issuers may struggle or fail to make required payments, resulting in losses for bondholders. The value of a debt obligation may decline if the debt issue is downgraded by ratings agencies due to a perceived increase in default risk.

Currency Risk: Overseas investments are subject to fluctuations in the value of the dollar against the currency of the investment's originating country.

Inflation Risk: Inflation may erode the purchasing power of your investment portfolio, even if the dollar value of your investments remains the same.

Interest Rate Risk: The market values of fixed income (bond) holdings are impacted by fluctuations in interest rates. When interest rates increase, yields on existing bonds will become less attractive, causing values to decline. Most investments are sensitive to the level and direction of interest rates.

Reinvestment Risk: Future proceeds from investments may have to be reinvested at a potentially lower rate of return (i.e. interest rate). This primarily relates to fixed income securities.

Securities Type Rlsk: Each type of security has its own unique set of risks associated with it and it would not be possible to list here all of the specific risks of every type of investment. Even within the same type of investment, risks can vary widely. However, in very general terms, the higher the anticipated return of an investment, the higher the risk of loss associated with it.

Voting Client Securities

Vault does not accept proxy-voting responsibility for any Client. Clients will receive proxy statements directly from the Custodian. The Advisor will assist in answering questions relating to proxies, however, the Client retains the sole responsibility for proxy decisions and voting.

Certain representatives of Vault Wealth Strategies, LLC are licensed insurance agents with Vault Insurance Brokerage, LLC, an affiliated independent insurance agency owned and managed by Mr. Milholland, and/or are appointed with other independent insurance providers. As a result of this affiliation, representatives may receive normal and customary commissions on insurance business. These transactions are separate from the advisory services provided by Vault Wealth Strategies. A conflict of interest exists as these commissionable sales can create an incentive to recommend products based on the compensation earned. To mitigate this potential conflict, our firm will act in the client's best interest.

Those representatives with this affiliation will disclose such affiliation on their individual disclosure brochures - ADV Part 2B, along with any other business activities that exist outside of Vault Wealth Strategies, LLC.

Our firm or persons associated with our firm may buy or sell the same securities that we recommend to you or securities in which you are already invested. A conflict of interest exists in such cases because we have the ability to trade ahead of you and potentially receive more favorable prices than you will receive. To eliminate this conflict of interest, it is our policy that neither our Associated Persons nor we shall have priority over your account in the purchase or sale of securities.

We do not recommend that clients buy or sell any security in which a related person to Vault or Vault has a material financial interest.

Our firm may review client accounts more frequently than described above.
