Why a lunch program?

A lunch program is a benefit that thousands of companies in North America are offering their employees today. Some companies provide weekly lunches, while others will provide monthly lunches. In rare cases, employers will provide daily lunches for their employees. Lunch programs are often facilitated with the help of a local catering company.

What are the benefits?

Offering food for your employees has many benefits. According to a study conducted by Peapod of over 1000 workers, people were 11% happier when free food was offered in the workplace.

How much should I spend on a lunch program?

Spending on your office lunch program is super flexible. Companies of all different sizes take different approaches to running a program like this. Office catering budgets can vary depending on your menu and city, however a typical office catering budget is $15-$20 / team member.

On the low end

Under $15 / team member

All lunch programs start somewhere! Some teams will begin with offering a smaller or more sporadic lunch program that employees appreciate.

Most common

$15-$20 / team member

Most offices will spend between $15 to $20 per team member each week, to provide their team members with lunches as a treat.

On the high end

Over $20 / team member

Some offices will make sure their employees food needs are completely taken care of at work. Shopify and Twitter both provide in office kitchen programs to take this burden off employees.

How can I provide this program for remote teams?

You can easily provide the same office lunch benefit to your remote employees using Hoppier Flex. Hoppier Flex is a virtual stipend card with customizable restrictions. Here is how you would use Hoppier Flex to provide a lunch program for your remote employees:

Step 2

Decide where you would like to allow your employees to spend their lunch stipend. You can restrict their spending to however many food delivery services that you wish. See below for an example of some of the food delivery services options we have available for verified services.

Step 1

Determine a schedule and amount each employee will receive. We suggest using your existing budget parameters for your remote employees, or using the recommended $15 - $20 / employee industry average.

Step 3

Pay for your employee stipend via our efficient ACH payment process and we will provide you with a link to send out to all of your employees so they can access their stipend. Onboarding takes less than 24 hours.

Food delivery services

For employees working remotely, making the process of ordering lunch simple means supporting how your employees want to order.

Order locally!

Hoppier can help you support local restaurants too. Let us know which local restaurants you would like to allow an employee to spend on, and we'll update their spending permissions accordingly.
