LOLO MICROKITCHEN

by TANYA REPINA, MISHA REPIN | AOTTA STUDIO

A moveable capsular microkitchen/bar, 'Lolo' was inspired by the need to place kitchen units freely in the working or living area. A simple toy-like design and colourful wood create a unique and friendly image. Each module is intended for an electrical appliance and its accessories. The module shape accentuates the idea of all-in-one independent capsule. Big on style and function, 'Lolo' units are easy to transport and available in various colours, making them a pantry staple.

Designed with the intent to nurture a community of artists and performers who take inspiration from each other, 'Orphe' is a smart-shoes system designed for performance that functions both as a customisable lighting system and a musical instrument/ audiovisual controller. The sole of each shoe contains advanced motion sensors, around 100 full-colours, serially controlled LEDs and a wireless module. This technology allows users to share their expressions in new and interesting ways by freely mapping interactions between their movements and light and sound.
