Fuel Surcharge Report September 2020

The average UK pump price for diesel was 118.2 pence per litre during August 2020.

In accordance with our fuel surcharge policy, our fuel surcharge will therefore be reduced to 11.0% with effect from Tuesday, 15 September 2020.

Fuel surcharges have been necessary to cope with fluctuations in the price of diesel and whilst we appreciate that such charges are never welcome, we do try to ensure that our charges are competitive and transparent. We use reliable, trusted sources such as the AA to establish average UK pump prices for fuel and update our website monthly.
