Achieve offers:

College- and Career-Ready Assessments

Assessment Reviews

With over two decades of experience conducting reviews of assessments, our experts can review assessments for quality and standards alignment.

Item and Task Reviews

Our team can conduct reviews of individual assessment items and tasks for quality and standards alignment.

Assessment Inventories

We developed and launched the Student Assessment Inventory for School Districts, a tool to help districts audit their assessments and ensure that they administer only the best and most useful. Our team can guide your district through the assessment inventory process.

Training for Assessment Item Reviewers

We offer training for educators and assessment specialists to become expert reviewers of assessment items and tasks.

Training for Assessment Item Writers

Our team can provide training on the creation of assessment items and tasks that effectively measure student learning under college- and career-ready academic standards.

Implementation of College- and Career-Ready Policies

Consulting Services

Building upon our 20+ year history of supporting states in their development and implementation of college- and career-ready policies, our team is available to provide research, recommendations, and other direct support to states in their policy efforts to better prepare all students. Achieve's experts focus on assessment, graduation pathways, data and public reporting, academic standards, and accountability.

Planning for College- and Career-Ready Policies

Policy Research

We conduct in-depth policy analysis and provide research support to help states better understand the national landscape, policy trends across states, and emerging best practices in the areas of assessment, graduation pathways, data and public reporting, academic standards, and accountability.
