

The Ultimate French “Art de Vivre”

Discover Champagne and jewelry fit for a queen through a unique virtual tasting experience

The French art of living well – from knowing how to set an elegant table to choosing the perfect outfit – has a long tradition that originated with royalty and expanded into everyday life. In this unique virtual and interactive experience, you will discover three storied luxury houses – Rare Champagne, Petrossian caviar and the fine jeweler Maison Mellerio – whose passion for craftsmanship carries on to this day. You will start with a tasting of a vintage Rare Champagne perfectly paired with Petrossian caviar and continue with the history of the rise of Place Vendôme as the center of the fine-jewelry world and the fascinating journey of Mellerio, jeweler to Marie-Antoinette – perhaps the ultimate “influencer” of her time, who was also the very first Champagne “ambassador.”

Your Rare Experience

SAVOR Rare Champagne vintage 2006, the “Haute Couture” of Champagne, created by the renowned cellar master Régis Camus, with Jonathan Boulangeat, ambassador for Rare Champagne.

TASTE three different caviars while learning about the international grading system with Serguei Aver, master taster at Petrossian.

MEET Côme Mellerio, a member of the Mellerio family’s 15th generation, who will talk about the family’s legacy and vision, and show some of the fabulous Mellerio pieces from the past and present.

LISTEN to the colorful history of Place Vendôme, the most prestigious royal square in Paris, and hear the fascinating story of Maison Mellerio, the world’s oldest fine-jewelry house, established in France in 1613, with Charlotte de Charentenay, graduate of the prestigious Ecole du Louvre.

DISCOVER a new and notable collaboration between Mellerio and Piper-Heidsieck: a collector’s bottle of Cuvée Rare Champagne from an exceptional vintage, adorned with a bespoke piece of jewelry produced in a limited edition of ten.
