

HEALTH SPACES

A VENDOR SHOWCASE

MAY 7 - MAY 23

The importance of our healthcare systems has never been more prominent than now. Over the past few years, we've seen ICUs fill with patients, healthcare staff working long hours to protect our loved ones, and technology innovating rapidly to provide telehealth to patients who were stuck at home.

Today, we have the opportunity to reimagine our health experience for both patient and provider. How do we create spaces that enable doctors and nurses to stay sharp and recharge, patient spaces that provide comfort, connection, and healing, and communal spaces for families to feel included and welcomed?

Healing spaces matter, which is why we've put together this vendor showcase to bring these environments to life and allow you to imagine the possibilities of human-centric design.

Kwalu boasts a remarkable legacy of over three decades in manufacturing top-tier furniture designed for healthcare settings. As pioneers in the industry, Kwalu introduced the first-ever seamless, solid surface furniture that stands up to the rigors of healthcare chemicals, ensuring easy cleaning with even concentrated bleach. Their commitment to excellence is evident in the unique 10-year warranty on construction and finish. The surfaces, celebrated for their award-winning design, are impeccably nonporous and smooth, which significantly reduces the risk of harboring harmful pathogens and simplifies the deep cleaning process.

carolina
an OFS company

Healthcare spaces ought to convey comfort, wellness, security, and a sense of home. Helping people get better begins with helping them feel better. Well-designed environments can also provide caregivers with a sense of pride in their work, increase their efficiency and effectiveness, minimize the risk of contamination, and cultivate their own wellness, as well as their patients. We developed our Carolina portfolio, enhanced by the rest of our OFS products, to meet the needs of a full-facility design, supporting the healing process for caregivers, patients, and guests.
