Company history

We have seen dozens of companies struggle to get their internal software used properly.

Too many employees, drowned in a mass of heterogeneous information, scattered in the different tools.

Too many newcomers, looking for the document that a colleague has probably worked on, but which unfortunately is not shared with them.

We looked at what existed on the market: data storage tools, collaborative platforms, and other knowledge management tools.

But none of them could meet the triple need we found:

- ease of use allowing universal accessibility,
- the ability to interface with existing data sources, so as to always be up to date with what already exists, rather than recreating knowledge in a dedicated tool (which ends up becoming a silo of additional information, used by only a small portion of the teams...),
- and which can provide an answer to the bad sharing of documents, without harming their confidentiality at any time.

That's why we (Arthur and Grace) decided to launch Outmind mid-2019.

Imagine having access to all your documents in one place. The second you need it. Without having to go through several different applications in a row (your Microsoft Teams, Sharepoint, Onedrive... and/or Google Drive, Dropbox or Box tools; your Outlook or Gmail emails; your Jira or Confluence spaces, your CRM, your project management tool ... the list can be long). With Outmind, you know where to find everything, and who to contact if needed. No more wasted time. No more useless solicitations. You avoid recreating documents that already exist, and can focus on what matters.

We are building the next generation of Enterprise Search. We are only at the beginning of the adventure, building our solution with our first paying customers.

Since its creation in 2019, Outmind is supported by leading accelerators and investors such as the Accelerator of Ecole Polytechnique, WILCO, STATION F, Mustard Seed Maze, Sharpstone, and BPI France.

The team

We have a mission: to give back to companies and their employees the control of their knowledge.

We are driven by essential values such as simplicity, transparency, ambition and responsibility.

Our product

1/ Files search: efficiency and speed

- Full granularity: search in the title, the metadata and content
- Evolution: configurable and proprietary relevance algorithms
- Advanced search: filter the results according to type, source, date, booleans...

Outmind provides a simple and intuitive interface to find any internal information.

2/ People search: unlock internal silos

On the basis of everyone's contributions, and following a request, the People feature displays the right people to contact.

- Outmind AI detects similar elements created by other employees, without disclosing them
- Direct contact: the requested person receives an immediate alert

3/ Tags: capitalize on reference documents

Classify and highlight the most important elements of all your sources with dynamic labels

- Outmind allows you to add a tag to any type of information (files, messages, emails, ...), in 2 clicks.
- It is possible to use personal or team tags.
- Tags are customizable: colors, text, tree structure, etc.
- By using the tags directly in your research, you will immediately find the corresponding documents.

Outmind allows you to tag your documents quickly and easily
