The Great Train Robbery

April 3, 2020

[00:00:04] Hello, hello, hello, and welcome to English Learning for Curious Minds by Leonardo English.

[00:00:11] The show where you can learn fascinating things about the world and listen to weird and wonderful stories at the same time as improving your English.

[00:00:22] I'm Alastair Budge and today we are going to be talking about The Great Train Robbery¹.

[00:00:30] In 1963, just outside London, a train carrying today's equivalent² of 55 million pounds, 65 million dollars, was stopped.

[00:00:43] A group of men got onto the train and 15 minutes later they had managed to escape with all of the money.

¹ the crime of stealing from somewhere or someone

² having the same amount, value, purpose, qualities, etc.

The Great Train Robbery

[00:00:54] Today we are going to tell this story - the story of one of the greatest thefts³ in British criminal history.

[00:01:05] Before we do that, though, this is just my chance to remind those of you listening to this podcast on Spotify, iVoox, Google Podcasts, Apple Podcasts, or wherever you get your podcasts that you can get a copy of the transcript and key vocabulary for the podcast over on the website, which is Leonardoenglish.com.

[00:01:28] If you haven't yet tried listening to the podcast with the transcript in front of you, well you are missing a trick⁴, it means that you can follow every single word and improve your English way faster than you would do just by listening.

[00:01:45] And it also comes with the key vocabulary, which means that you can learn new words and expressions at the same time as listening to the podcast.

[00:01:55] So go and check that out.

[00:01:56] It's at Leonardoenglish.com

[00:02:02] Okay then let's talk about this fantastic⁵ crime.

³ (the act of) dishonestly taking something that belongs to someone else and keeping it

⁴ missing out, not taking advantage of an opportunity or situation to gain some benefit for oneself

⁵ normally this means 'very good', but it can also be used to mean very unusual, strange, or unexpected

The Great Train Robbery

[00:02:08] At about three o'clock in the morning on the 8th of August, 1963 a Royal Mail⁶ train was on its way from Glasgow to London.

[00:02:22] It was carrying about 2 million pounds in cash⁷, that's about 55 million pounds in today's money.

[00:02:31] It was carrying so much cash because there had just been a bank holiday, a public holiday, in Scotland.

[00:02:40] The cash it was carrying was a whole load⁸ of old bank notes, old money, and it was carrying this old money to London to be burned and taken out of circulation⁹.

[00:02:57] So, at three o'clock in the morning, the train slowed down as the driver saw a red signal telling the train to stop.

[00:03:08] They stopped, but the signal was still red.

[00:03:12] So the driver got out of the train to investigate.

⁶ the postal service in the UK

⁷ money in the form of notes and coins, rather than cheques or credit cards

⁸ a large amount

⁹ the process in which something such as information, money, or goods passes from one person to another

The Great Train Robbery

[00:03:17] When he went to look at the light, he was grabbed¹⁰ from behind and a man said, in a harsh¹¹ voice, 'if you make a sound, I'll kill you'.

[00:03:29] They took him back to the train.

[00:03:32] They tied up¹² the other workers in the first two carriages¹³ of the train and then they detached¹⁴ the first two carriages, they separated the first two carriages of the train from the rest of the train.

[00:03:48] And then the first two carriages were driven for a few miles further up the track¹⁵.

[00:03:56] What this meant was that the workers in the rear¹⁶ part of the train, the bit behind, they didn't have any idea that anything was wrong.

¹⁰ taken hold of something or someone suddenly and roughly

¹¹ unpleasant, unkind, cruel, or more severe than is necessary

¹² to make a person unable to move by tying a rope or something similar around their body or part of their body

¹³ any of the separate parts of a train in which the passengers sit

¹⁴ to separate or remove something from something else that it is connected to

¹⁵ the pair of long metal bars fixed on the ground at an equal distance from each other, along which trains travel

¹⁶ at the back of something

The Great Train Robbery

[00:04:06] They thought they had just stopped because of a routine¹⁷, a normal problem.

[00:04:13] When the train had moved a few miles up the track, the gang¹⁸ of robbers¹⁹, they managed to get into the second carriage where all of the cash, all of the money, was being kept.

[00:04:26] They overpowered²⁰ the guards and got all the money out.

[00:04:31] They threw the 120 bags full of cash down an embankment²¹ to their accomplices²², their fellow²³ robbers, who were waiting with cars nearby, the getaway²⁴ drivers.

¹⁷ done as part of what usually happens, and not for any special reason

¹⁸ a group of criminals who work together

¹⁹ people who steal from others

²⁰ to defeat someone by having greater strength or power

²¹ an artificial slope made of earth and/or stones

²² a person who helps someone else to commit a crime or to do something morally wrong

²³ used of people or a person with whom you share something, esp. the same kind of job, interest, or experience

²⁴ an occasion when someone leaves a place quickly, usually after committing a crime

The Great Train Robbery

[00:04:47] In a matter of²⁵ 15 minutes, the thieves²⁶ had escaped with over 2 million pounds, as I said, about 55 million pounds in today's money.

[00:04:59] And this was all cash, right? It was all paper.

[00:05:03] It weighed about two and a half tonnes.

[00:05:07] So that's heavier than the average car.

[00:05:10] That was how much money they stole.

[00:05:13] So it was pretty impressive to get all of that out of the train in under 15 minutes.

[00:05:21] The police were alerted²⁷ as soon as the guards in the back section of the train realised that something was wrong.

[00:05:30] And of course the police spent the next day on the hunt for²⁸ the criminals.

[00:05:36] But the gang was nowhere to be found.

[00:05:40] The police tried everything.

[00:05:42] They spent all day asking around in the local houses and farms.

²⁵ only

²⁶ people who steal from others

²⁷ Warned, told

²⁸ looking for

The Great Train Robbery

[00:05:47] They sent a special robbery²⁹ squad³⁰ to the area - this was a team of people who were familiar with the criminal underground³¹ to see if they would have any luck.

[00:06:00] They searched the houses of known criminals.

[00:06:03] They questioned the girlfriends and known associates³² of some of the UK's most infamous³³ criminals.

[00:06:13] But still they had no luck.

[00:06:17] Five days after the robbery, though, on August the 13th they received a tip-off³⁴, a suggestion, from a local farmer that they should go and look into a place called Leatherslade farm, a farm which was about 20 miles or 30 kilometres, from the scene of the crime.

[00:06:41] The farmer said that he had seen lots of people coming and going³⁵, there had been an increase in activity, and it was definitely abnormal³⁶.

²⁹ the crime of stealing from somewhere or someone

³⁰ a small group of people trained to work together as a unit

³¹ below the surface of the earth; below ground, similar to 'underworld'

³² people who are closely connected to another person as a companion, friend, or business partner

³³ famous for something considered bad

³⁴ a secret warning or piece of secret information

³⁵ frequent movement

³⁶ different from what is usual or average, especially in a way that is bad

The Great Train Robbery

[00:06:53] So he said to the police, you should go and have a look at it.

[00:06:56] When they arrived at the property, they found it deserted³⁷.

[00:07:01] But they knew pretty soon that they were onto something³⁸.

[00:07:07] They saw 20 of the Royal Mail bags, with no money inside of course, and they also found the getaway vehicles, the cars used for the robbery.

[00:07:21] But the thieves had been pretty careful.

[00:07:24] They had wiped everything down³⁹, they had cleaned the property, to avoid leaving any fingerprints or things that would be clues⁴⁰ for the police.

[00:07:37] However, the police found a game of Monopoly , alongside real money.

[00:07:44] The men had so much cash that instead of playing with Monopoly money, with the fake money, they just played with real money.

[00:07:54] I mean, they had two tonnes of it, so why not?

³⁷ If a place is deserted, there are no people in it

³⁸ To be onto something or someone is to be aware of other information relating to the situation, esp. when someone is trying to deceive you

³⁹ to clean the surface of something, such as a table, with a cloth

⁴⁰ signs or some information that helps you to find the answer to a problem, question, or mystery

The Great Train Robbery

[00:08:00] Anyway, while playing Monopoly was no doubt good fun, it wasn't a good idea because on one of the Monopoly pieces, on the game pieces, the police found fingerprints which helped identify some of the men.

[00:08:18] A week later, they managed to track down⁴¹ and arrest one member of the gang and within the next two weeks, thanks to tip-offs, thanks to people telling the police about the identity of some of the others, they had managed to start tracking⁴² the rest of the gang.

[00:08:40] They'd managed to identify a lot of the men and they'd managed to locate some of them.

[00:08:46] The police discovered that the gang consisted⁴³ of a total of 17 people, 15 of whom were actually physically present at the robbery

[00:08:58] So who were these men?

[00:09:00] What did they all do?

[00:09:02] Well, it really was a bit of a mix, a motley crew⁴⁴, and they all played a slightly different role.

⁴¹ to find

⁴² locating

⁴³ to be comprised of, made up of

⁴⁴ a diverse and often poorly organised group

The Great Train Robbery

[00:09:11] There were the big guys, the guys who were there to threaten⁴⁵ the drivers, to be the muscle⁴⁶.

[00:09:18] There were the getaway drivers, the men who were waiting in the cars.

[00:09:24] Then there were those responsible for things like dividing up the money and for buying the farm.

[00:09:34] We know who they all are now apart from one person, and that man was the man inside⁴⁷, the person with the inside knowledge of the Royal Mail.

[00:09:48] The person who knew exactly when and where the train would be, the person who knew where the money would be and who told the gang how to actually get away⁴⁸ with the attack.

[00:10:02] The true identity of that man, although there are some theories, the true identity has never been revealed.

[00:10:12] And now that all of the men who took part in the robbery are no longer around, they've all passed away⁴⁹, his identity will never be revealed.

⁴⁵ to tell someone that you will kill or hurt them or cause problems if they do not do what you want

⁴⁶ (informal) the strong people

⁴⁷ if you are a 'person inside', you have information about something that you could only get through being involved with that organisation

⁴⁸ to succeed in doing, especially something bad

⁴⁹ polite expression for die

The Great Train Robbery

[00:10:24] But the rest of the men were captured, they were arrested by the police.

[00:10:30] This didn't happen at the same time, and it wasn't until April of the next year that they were actually sentenced⁵⁰, that they were sent to prison.

[00:10:42] But the story most certainly⁵¹ does not end there.

[00:10:48] Several of the men escaped from prison, running away to places like Belgium, France, Canada, Australia, and Brazil.

[00:11:00] The most famous escapee⁵², the most famous of the men who managed to escape, was called Ronnie Biggs.

[00:11:09] He was only 32 when he was caught and he was sentenced to 30 years in prison.

[00:11:17] But after 15 months in prison, he managed to escape, climbing over the prison walls of a maximum security prison in London.

⁵⁰ to decide and say officially what a punishment will be

⁵¹ definitely

⁵² someone who escapes

The Great Train Robbery

[00:11:30] He fled⁵³, he ran away, first to Brussels and then to Paris where he had plastic surgery⁵⁴ to change his appearance, for obvious reasons.

[00:11:42] He then fled to the other side of the world, to Australia, and when the police got close to him there, he fled on a passenger ship with a fake passport to Panama and then to Brazil.

[00:11:59] In Brazil, he was safe, comparatively speaking, as Brazil didn't have an extradition⁵⁵ treaty⁵⁶ with the UK.

[00:12:08] This meant that the Brazilian government didn't have to deport⁵⁷ him, to send him back to the UK, to be tried⁵⁸.

[00:12:17] So he lived pretty openly in Brazil for almost 30 years.

[00:12:23] He couldn't work though, given his status as a known criminal.

⁵³ past simple and past participle of flee (to escape from)

⁵⁴ a medical operation to bring a damaged area of skin, and sometimes bone, back to its usual appearance, or to improve a person's appearance

⁵⁵ the act of making someone return for trial to another country or state where they have been accused of doing something illegal

⁵⁶ a written agreement between two or more countries, formally approved and signed by their leaders

⁵⁷ to force someone to leave a country, especially someone who has no legal right to be there or who has broken the law

⁵⁸ past of 'try' to examine a person accused of committing a crime in a law court by asking them questions and considering known facts, and then decide if they are guilty

The Great Train Robbery

[00:12:29] So he used to host barbecues at his house.

[00:12:34] Tourists could pay to go and have a barbecue with one of the most famous robbers of all time.

[00:12:43] However, the story doesn't end particularly happily with Caipirinhas⁵⁹ on the beach for Ronnie Biggs.

[00:12:53] His health deteriorated⁶⁰, it got worse, and he longed to⁶¹ return to the UK.

[00:13:01] And in 2001 he did return, but he was immediately arrested.

[00:13:08] Even though he was in his seventies he had committed⁶² a pretty serious crime, and he still had 28 years to serve⁶³ of his sentence.

[00:13:20] So he was put back in prison, and he served another eight years.

⁵⁹ a Brazilian alcoholic drink made with Brazilian rum, lime juice, sugar, and ice

⁶⁰ to become worse

⁶¹ wanted very much

⁶² done something illegal

⁶³ to spend a period of time in a job or activity

The Great Train Robbery

[00:13:26] In 2009 he was released from prison on what's called 'compassionate⁶⁴
grounds⁶⁵', basically he was very ill.

[00:13:36] And he died four years later in 2013.

[00:13:40] I should add that although this crime has gone down in history and has been romanticised⁶⁶ quite a lot, including I guess what we're doing here on this podcast, it was obviously a pretty serious crime and not completely victim⁶⁷-free.

[00:14:01] During the robbery, one of the guards of the train, a man called Jack Mills, was hit over the head with an iron bar⁶⁸.

[00:14:12] Although he wasn't killed, he suffered severe⁶⁹ brain damage and never properly recovered from his injuries.

⁶⁴ showing compassion (a strong feeling of sympathy and sadness for the suffering or bad luck of others and a wish to help them)

⁶⁵ reasons

⁶⁶ to talk about something in a way that makes it sound better than it really is, or to believe that something is better than it really is

⁶⁷ someone or something that has been hurt, damaged, or killed or has suffered, either because of the actions of someone or something else, or because of illness or chance

⁶⁸ a large piece of hard metal

⁶⁹ causing very great pain, difficulty, worry, damage, etc.; very serious

The Great Train Robbery

[00:14:21] So it was definitely not victimless⁷⁰, the crime.

[00:14:26] And it obviously was a pretty serious crime.

[00:14:29] It was the biggest cash robbery, the biggest theft⁷¹ of physical money in Britain for 40 years, until it was eclipsed⁷² by a robbery in Northern Ireland in 2004.

[00:14:44] In any case, The Great Train Robbery has gone down in history, and you will find references to it throughout British pop culture⁷³, from Beatles lyrics⁷⁴ to Agatha Christie, from Inspector Clouseau to James Bond, it's everywhere and it has had an impact on British culture like no other crime, I guess.

[00:15:13] Not just because it's a huge robbery, but it's also a story of escapes from prison, a global manhunt⁷⁵, and then the ultimately sad end for many of the robbers.

[00:15:27] Okay then, that is it for today's episode.

⁷⁰ In a victimless crime no one suffers directly, sometimes because the people affected by the crime have agreed to take part in it

⁷¹ (the act of) dishonestly taking something that belongs to someone else and keeping it

⁷² become more successful or important than something else

⁷³ music, TV, cinema, books, etc. that are popular and enjoyed by ordinary people, rather than experts or very educated people

⁷⁴ the words of a song

⁷⁵ an organised search for a person, especially a criminal

The Great Train Robbery

[00:15:32] I hope you've enjoyed it and I certainly hope that it hasn't inspired⁷⁶ you to start robbing trains.

[00:15:39] As I said, the story doesn't end well.

[00:15:42] As a quick reminder, if you are looking for the transcript and key vocabulary for the podcast, you can find that at leonardoenglish.com.

[00:15:53] It is a really useful resource for following along and improving your English at the same time as listening to the podcast.

[00:16:00] So I definitely recommend going and checking that out if you haven't done so already.

[00:16:07] You've been listening to English Learning for Curious Minds by Leonardo English.

[00:16:12] I'm Alastair Budge.

[00:16:14] You stay safe and I'll catch you in the next episode.
