"PwC" refers to PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP, an Ontario limited liability partnership.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

Notes to Financial Statements

June 30, 2019

1 Nature of the organization

Girls E-Mentorship Innovation Inc. (GEM) is a registered charitable club incorporated without share capital under the Corporations Act (Ontario) on December 11, 2012. Its principal activities include providing electronic and in-person mentorship to at-risk girls in grades 11 and 12 by connecting them with female professional mentors in the GTA.

GEM is exempt from income taxes in Canada as it is designated as a registered charitable organization pursuant to paragraph 149(1)(f) of the Income Tax Act (Canada).

During the six-month period ended June 30, 2019, GEM elected to change their fiscal year end to June 30, 2019.

2 Summary of significant accounting policies

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations (ASNPO) applied within the framework of the accounting policies summarized below.

Revenue recognition

GEM follows the deferral method of accounting for contributions.

Unrestricted contributions are recognized as revenue when received or receivable if the amount to be received can be reasonably estimated and collection is reasonably assured.

Externally restricted contributions are recognized as revenue in the period in which the related expenses are incurred.

Contributed services and donations in-kind

Contributed materials and services are not recognized in the financial statements. Volunteers make a substantial contribution of time each year to assist GEM in carrying out its activities. Due to the difficulty in determining the fair value of such volunteer services, they are not recognized in these financial statements.

Financial instruments

GEM initially measures its financial instruments at fair value. GEM subsequently measures all its financial instruments at amortized cost, unless management has elected to carry the instrument at fair value.

Financial assets and financial liabilities measured at amortized cost include cash, accounts receivable and accounts payable and accrued liabilities.

Financial assets are assessed for impairment on an annual basis at the end of the fiscal year if there are indicators of impairment.

Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in accordance with ASNPO requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

3 Financial instruments

It is management's opinion that GEM is not exposed to significant credit, foreign exchange and market risks. Exposure to liquidity risk is as follows.

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk GEM will not be able to meet its financial obligations when they come due. GEM manages its liquidity risk by forecasting cash flows from operations and anticipating activities to ensure it has sufficient available funds to meet current and foreseeable financial requirements. Given GEM's available liquid resources as compared to the timing of the payment of liabilities, management assesses GEM's liquidity risk to be low.

4 Deferred contributions

The changes for the period in the deferred contributions balance are as follows:

	Period from December 31, 2018 to June 30, 2019 $	Year ended December 31, 2018 $
Balance – Beginning of period	2,032	3,275
Amounts recognized	-	1,243
	<hr/>	<hr/>
Balance – End of period	2,032	2,032

5 Lease commitment

GEM leased its office space under an operating lease on a month-to-month basis for $1,070 per month.

6 Related parties

GEM is related to E-L Financial Corporation Limited (E-L) and certain other private companies by virtue of GEM's management being related to the management of E-L and related to the beneficial ownership of certain other private companies. In the six-month period ended June 30, 2019, E-L's wholly owned subsidiary and these certain other private companies made contributions to GEM in the amount of $25,000 (fiscal year ended December 31, 2018 – $50,000).

Notes to Financial Statements

---

GEM recognized the contributions using the exchange amount, which is the amount agreed on by both parties. All related party transactions occurred in the normal course of business.

7 Economic dependence

E-L's wholly owned subsidiary and certain other private companies (note 6) are significant contributors to GEM, accounting for 14% (fiscal year ended December 31, 2018 – 16%) of its revenue.
