

As part of our read the Bible Together (RBT) project, this June we're reading through Paul's letter to Titus. Then we will meet in RBT discussions groups during the week beginning 28th June 2021.

To encourage us all to read, we've produced a daily reading plan for you to use that breaks the chapters down into readable chunks.

This month the time between overview sermon and discussion groups is slightly shorter than normal, so we suggest reading a chapter a day on Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays, then reading the whole book on Thursday or Friday, and on the final Monday.

There's also discussion questions to help you work through the story, process what you're reading, and squeeze the juice out.

RBT Discussion Study Guide

→ Take a moment to pray and ask God to help you understand and apply what you read.

Ask: "What?"

Go back through your reading and ask questions like: What did it say? What insights do I gain? What did I learn about God? About myself? About life?

Then ask: "So What?"

Imagine someone read that same passage and asked you, "What does this have to do with life today?" What's the answer? What lesson or teaching does God communicate through this passage?

Finally, ask "Now What?"

Ask God what He wants you to do with what you read. In what way do you need to believe, live, respond, etc. differently based on what you read? This goes beyond a general or universal lesson to specific application for your life. Ask God for the wisdom and strength to live out what He's shown you.
