EDUCATION

THE CSALE 2019-20 SURVEY

PHASE I, MASTER SURVEY

Introduction

Welcome to the 2019-20 Survey of Applied Legal Education, a project of the Center for the Study of Applied Legal Education (CSALE). Your responses in the Master Survey will be combined with other schools' and collectively reported. CSALE carefully limits distribution and use of its data to scholars and those considering law clinic and field placement program design and staffing. No data is made available for purposes of ranking.

Feel free to stop and start the survey at any point, e.g., to check with others at your school for information. Your answers help assure that our data is comprehensive and valuable. Please complete by November 15.

Critical Definitions: The Master Survey focuses on law clinics, field placement courses, and the people teaching in each. In the Survey, the following definitions apply:

Clinical Faculty or Instructor is a person employed by the law school (even part time) who teaches in either a law clinic or field placement course.

This does not include a person:

- primarily employed by the office where a student is placed in a Field Placement Course who supervises students in that capacity (sometimes referred to as a "field supervisor" or "site supervisor"); OR
- primarily a podium/doctrinal teacher who may supervise a few students in externship placements or help teach some law clinic or field placement seminar class sessions.

Law Clinic is a credit-bearing course under ABA Standard 304(c) in which students advise or represent actual clients (individuals or organizations) or serve as a third-party neutral, are supervised by a Clinical Faculty member, and includes a classroom instructional component (includes "hybrids" if your school reports them to ABA as a "law clinic").

Field Placement Course is a distinct credit-bearing externship course separately listed in the school's course directory/catalogue that under ABA Standard 304(d) provides substantial lawyering experience where students are supervised in a setting outside the law school by persons not primarily employed by the school and which may or may not include a classroom component but does require some means of ongoing, contemporaneous, faculty-guided reflection.

F. INSTRUCTIONAL STAFFING

F. INSTRUCTIONAL STAFFING

This section seeks information on the persons teaching or projected to teach in a Law Clinic or Field Placement Course at your school during the 2019-20 Academic Year. Before responding to the questions, review these definitions:

As noted in the definition of Clinical Faculty, do not include:

persons primarily employed by the office where a student is placed in a field placement (sometimes referred to as a "site supervisor" or "field supervisor"); OR persons who are primarily podium/doctrinal teachers and may simply supervise a few students in externship placements or help teach a few law clinic or field placement course seminars

Unitary Tenure/Tenure Track: A tenure system that extends nearly identical status, governance rights, and hiring/promotion standards to both podium/doctrinal AND clinical faculty (identified below as "Tenured (Unitary)" and "On Tenure Track (Unitary)").

Clinical Tenure/Tenure Track (aka "Programmatic Tenure"): A separate tenure system for persons teaching in a law clinic or field placement course that differs from the traditional tenure provided most podium/doctrinal faculty on governance rights and/or standards for hiring and/or promotion, including often different scholarship expectations (identified below as "Clinical Tenured" and "On Clinical Tenure Track").

Long-Term Contract: A contract of at least 5 years duration.

Presumption of Renewal: ABA Accreditation Standard 405 defines presumptively renewable contracts as those that include a presumption they will be renewed at the end of each contract term and are generally only subject to termination/non-renewal for good cause.

Short-Term Probationary Contract: A contract of less than 5 years that typically mimics the "pre-tenure" employment status of a traditional tenure-track professor, to wit: a contract that places the employee on a track under which the person will ultimately be considered for a longer-term presumptively renewable contract.

Other Short-Term Contract: A contract of less than 5 years that is not viewed as a probationary period that can lead to a long-term contract.

8a. Total Clinical Teachers: State the total number of persons teaching in law clinics or field placement courses, full or part time, including adjuncts, staff attorneys, fellows, etc.:

8b. Number Full-Time: Of the total number you just identified, how many are employed by the school full time (defined as someone who works at least 80% of normal teaching/administrative hours or loads at the school (i.e., at least .8 FTE employee)):

8c. Status: Of the full-time persons identified above, how many are:

	Number full-time

It is important that as many clinical faculty as possible participate (over 1,100 participated in the last survey). Clinical faculty who direct or otherwise have primary responsibility for a law clinic or field placement course will be directed in the Sub-Survey to also answer additional questions about their individual law clinic or field placement course.

Please provide the email addresses for every full-time law school employee teaching in a law clinic or field placement course AND any other person (if not full-time) who direct or has primarily responsibility for a clinic or field placement course at any time during the 2019-20 Academic Year.

- Full-time instructors are defined above in Section F as someone working at least 80% of your school's normal teaching/administrative hours or loads.
- Field placement site supervisors or part-time adjuncts: Include if and only if they direct or are primarily responsible for a law clinic or externship.
- Do not include faculty members who are primarily podium/doctrinal but might oversee a few field placements or help with a few law clinic or externship seminars.
