

Self-Expression Friday

Write a letter to one of the four people you described in your weekly activity as you tried to imagine what they are going through during the Coronavirus Pandemic. You can write in whatever language you feel most comfortable, and you can write whatever you want! If you want, you can talk about some of the things you have gone through and what you have learned in the process. Or maybe some of the things you have in common. But, most importantly, try and express to them they are not alone and that we are all in this together!

Once the letter is done you can either take a photo of it and send it as a text or email, or send it in the actual mail!
