BIOGRAPHY

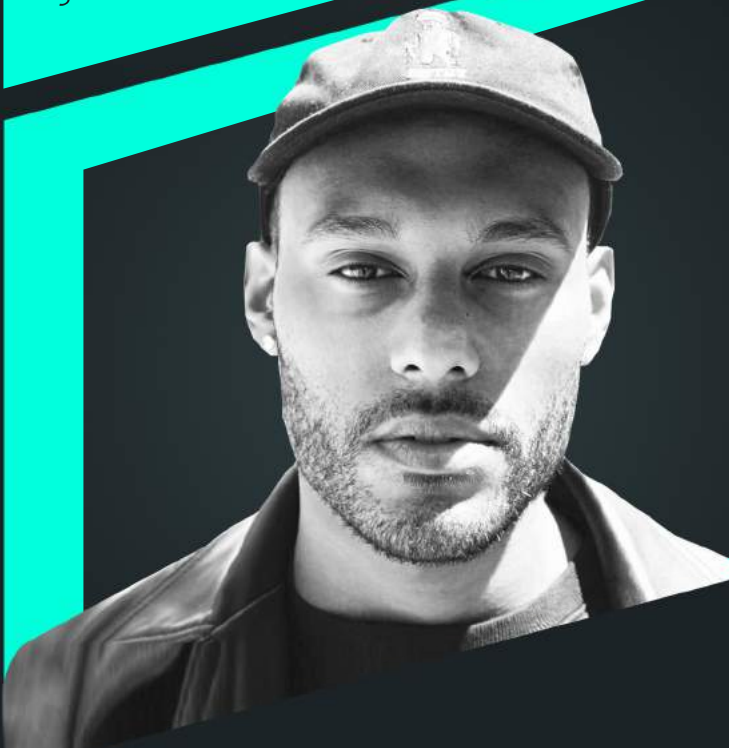

Through the busy streets and crowded subways emerges the new cool, a generation of multi-hyphenates, Juss is no exception, as he balances djing at select nightclubs and celebrity related events and now sets out to try his hand at film directing and producing. Juss, whose arsenal of music ranges from all genres and has the ability to incorporate any and everything into his mix. He is a true talent behind the turntables.

NYC groomed, Juss first got his big break in the entertainment industry, while interning for HYTME Entertainment, spending the summer of 2007 and 2008 at a lavish Hamptons estate greeting celebrity guests and coordinating events. He also interned at SONY BMG, and alongside chief graphic designer to Russell Simmons and Kevin Leong

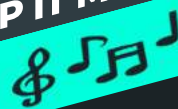

Fast forward six years, Juss is now one of the most in-demand DJ talents in the US, performing consistently in Los Angeles, Miami, Boston and of course New York City, where he graces the turntables at venues like Marquee, LAVO, Up & Down, Avenue, 1- OAK, just to name a few. However, this is not all, he also has an international following and has traveled the world for different dj appearances in Dubai, Spain, and Toronto.

Bouncing between rocking crowds to rocking with big-time brands, Juss has offered his services to corporate events for Beats By Dre, ABC's Good Morning America, Equinox, Adidas, ELLE Magazine, BET and many more. He has also deejayed for charities including; Alzheimer's Association, Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, Lupus Foundation, and celebrities Janelle Monae, Lewis Black, Rotimi from the hit show POWER, Bruno Mars' for his private Super Bowl after-party. Juss has always had strong vision for his personal aesthetic, branding himself as a curator of music, fashion and all things New York.
