WALK IN LOVE

When you put the love of God to work with your faith and your confessions, you will watch those dreams turn into spiritual realities. Can you afford not to walk in love? Can you afford to hold one bit of malice? Can you afford not to love your neighbor as yourself? You cannot love others until you love yourself. You should know who you are in Christ Jesus and what you possess. Many marriages have problems because two people who cannot love themselves certainly cannot love each other. How can they love their mate when they don't love themselves? Jesus showed ultimate love when he took a piece of bread at the last supper, when he supped with Judas (John 13:26), knowing all the time Judas was going to betray him. That is love, notice how Jesus honored Peter, who denied him three times (Mark 14:66-72).

We as Christians are called to love the unlovely; most of us want the unlovely straightened up before we are willing to help them; but it's never going to happen that way. Jesus didn't wait for us to change our lives before he decided to save us. If he had waited, some of us would have never gotten saved. He took us just the way we were.

We must first show love; then we will see results. When your life and actions line up with the Word of God and you place a strong guard on your tongue, you will soon find the love walk becoming automatic. When someone provokes you and you feel that old nature start to rise up inside of you, you will find yourself saying, “praise God, I love you anyway.” You will find yourself growing spiritually; you will awaken one morning and find that good things are happening to you. Promotions are coming; money that you needed is coming; everything you need is coming. Then it will dawn on you that while you were walking the love walk; you are not making these good things happen, they are happening automatically. Your faith is strong and faith worketh by love. God’s love is love that covers everything.

FAITH WORKS BY LOVE

And now abideth faith. Hope, charity, these three, but the greatest of these is charity (love).

I Corinthians 13:13

Faith is the channel by which you please God, but love causes you to trust God. Love case out fear and when fear is gone, there is nothing to interfere with your faith to get what you hoped for. Fear destroys faith, fear causes you to doubt and when you doubt, your faith flees.

For in Jesus Christ neither circumcision availeth anything, nor un-circumcision, but faith which worked by love.

Galatians 5:6

Faith is the hand that takes the things we need from God. Everything Jesus purchased for us on Calvary can be obtained by faith. Faith that works by love will measure up to all of the standards set down in the Word of God. Part of the love walk is being able to stand up and preach with a truth what God's word says.

We become so accustomed to doing certain things in the natural that we never realize that things are hindering us in the spiritual things like losing our temper. To make faith work in our lives, we must protect ourselves in every area. The love of God needs to ooze out of us so much that when we walk into a room, people will know we are living in love. You can be in the family of God, walk with God and still not walk in the perfect law of love. The demons believe and even tremble, but they will never receive because they aren't capable of love. They are filled with hate and fear...
