

Building Resilience with Team Consulting

1. Issue Owner
2. Facilitator
3. Contributors

Objective: The Contributors will offer relevant solutions for the Issue Owner.

Three Minutes: The Issue Owner states the issue as concisely and specifically as problem. What is it you want to accomplish? What are the challenges standing in your way? What have you tried before that did not work?

Two Minutes: Each Contributor asks only one clarifying question at a time. If a contributor does not have a question, he or she may say, "pass."

Five Minutes: Each Contributor states only one recommendation or suggestion at a time. This is not a time to discuss or give feedback on a recommendation nor to discuss or clarify it. Just state one recommendation and then let the next person make a recommendation. If a contributor does not have a recommendation he or she may say, "pass."

Two Minutes: The Issue owner may choose up to five recommendations, share them with the group, and choose an accountability partner and schedule a date to follow up.

For more recruiting and sales ideas and tips, visit www.greatrecruitertraining.com