

Roast Me

To start the game, place 5 challenge cards (red) face down in the middle. Each player draws 7 roasts (white) for their hand.

The player with the least followers on social media gets roasted first.

Everyone else passes their best roast in hand, face down, to the player roasted.

The player roasted shuffles all the roasts and reads them aloud. With help from the group, the player roasted picks the best roast.

The player roasted picks up the face down challenge cards and chooses one for the player who roasted them to perform. If the player who roasted them successfully performs the challenge, they collect the challenge card.

Unless otherwise stated, majority vote determines if a challenge card was performed successfully. If a roast contains a "blank", the player who roasted you fills it in as they see fit. If a challenge contains a "blank", the player you roasted, along with the rest of the group, fills it in as they see fit.

The first player to complete 3 challenge cards wins the game.

After each turn, a new player gets roasted, with gameplay moving clockwise. There should be 7 roasts in hand and 5 challenges in the middle at all times. All played cards are put back in the box.

After a full round, challenge cards may be swapped out, and all players can swap out 1 roast.

Third-party marks are not intended to suggest an association, sponsorship, or affiliation with the referenced brands or their owners. Roast Me is a parody. We do not tolerate bullying, nor do we condone dangerous or irresponsible acts by players. Please exercise common sense, play at your own risk, and roast responsibly.

