

How to Eat Fried Chicken Like a True Southerner

Thanks for ordering our Birdsall Market Fried Chicken Picnic Box! Here are some tips on how to best enjoy it.

- 1. Don't use silverware to eat your fried chicken. There is a reason we call it finger lickin' good!
- 2. A piece of meat makes a great spoon to sop up your slaw and potato salad.
- 3. When you receive your box on Friday, if you're really hungry -- go to town (we just cooked it). Just don't forget to butter your cornbread!
- 4. If eating later, or over the next 2 days, store in fridge. If you want it hot, preheat oven to 350 degrees, place chicken in oven along with cornbread wrapped in foil for 10 minutes. Pro Tip: take cornbread out of foil place in baking sheet put fried chicken on top of cornbread and reheat for 10 minutes.
- 5. Want to have a picnic? Take your box out of the fridge, put it in your basket, and go to your favorite spot. When you're hungry, stuff your face! All true Southerners know that cold fried chicken is a gift from the Gods!!!
- 6. Pro Tip: for a Deep South experience bring a bottle of your favorite Louisiana Hot Sauce and douse that chicken liberally!
