Chapter of the Month

Our monthly chapter study series is an ambitious and important twelve-month study of The Government of Eden, a most timely book focusing on spiritual government and how to live "in the world but not of it." Each month we will post one chapter to read on this website.

Accompanying each chapter is a Supplemental Reading guide with suggestions for related writing and audio selections. Membership for the Chapter of the Month is always free! Chapters are accessible online and an internet connection is required. Of course, you are also invited to work with your own printed copy of the book.

ENTER

When you enter the Chapter of the Month area, you will see four tabs.

Chapter of the Month: Only one chapter is available each month. In this tab you will find information about the current chapter. Clicking on the cover image or the yellow button will open the chapter in a new browser window.

Supplemental Reading: In this tab you will find the Supplemental Reading Guide for the current chapter. These guides are prepared using our Electronic Search Tool, which enables specific searches on everything Joel wrote, and everything he discussed in classes. These guides are offered as suggested reading to expand your study of topics in the current chapter.

Archives: This tab contains the Supplemental Reading archives, not chapter archives. The guides are archived so that you may use them at any time with your own printed copy of the current book being studied, or use in conjunction with a subscription to the Virtual Library, where all books can be accessed at any time.

User Guide: If you get stuck, you can find the user guide in this tab!

FEBRUARY, 2021 – PART ONE

Chapter of the Month

The Government of Eden

Chapter Four, "When We Are Tempted by Good and Evil"

"Aha! I am not to be fooled by appearances. There is no power given to man. All power is in God. All power is in Spirit. All power is in the Invisible..." Joel Goldsmith
The Government of Eden, Chapter 4

Chapter Four in The Government of Eden, is powerful and direct—a mirror to our turbulent times. Because this important—and perhaps difficult—chapter is the longest in the book, we will work with it both in February and March. The central question throughout these pages asks, are there human solutions to the problems facing the world? If not, what can we do? Joel brilliantly dissects the human condition—the universal Prodigal Son experience—and lays out a path back to "the kingdom" which has ever been within.

NAVIGATING

Whether you are reading a single chapter, or an entire virtual book, the navigation tools are the same. Your book or chapter will open in a new browser tab. You will see the front cover of the book, an arrow indicating how to turn the page, and several tools along the bottom of the screen.

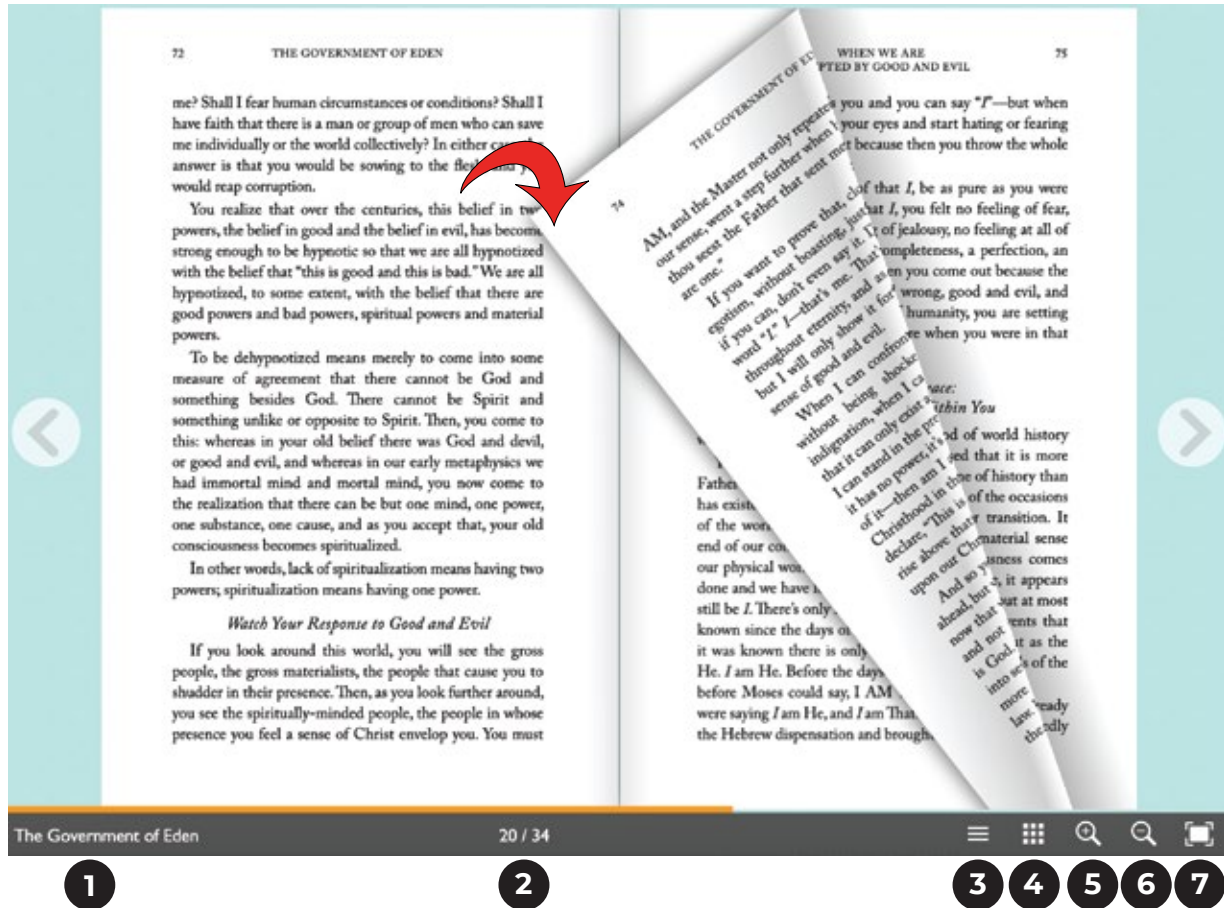

Use the arrows to turn pages as shown here.

Click on a title or number in the table of contents to jump right to that page in the chapter.

You can also grab a page corner with your mouse and turn it like a real book page.

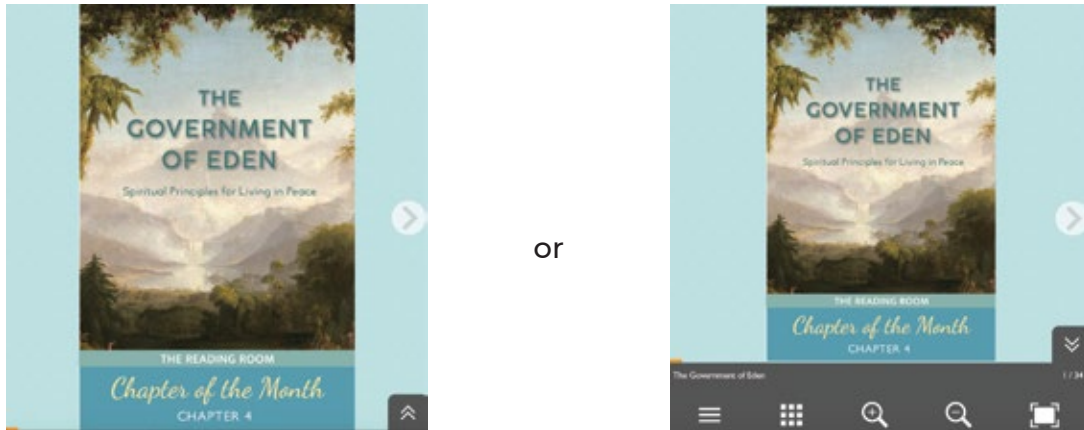

The tool bar along the bottom contains the following:

1. Book title.
2. Progress (also indicated by the orange bar).
3. Jump to table of contents.
4. Open page thumbnails to visually scan and jump to a page.
5. Zoom in.
6. Zoom out.
7. Open the chapter in full screen viewing.
