Distributor's notes

Ricardo Melo is originally from Brazil where he first got familiar with Portuguese wines at a young age. After working as a sommelier in London for many years, and frustrated at the lack of quality wine from Portugal at the time, he found a way to move and begin farming the way he wished others had.

He only uses his own estate grapes from 5.5ha of land - certified organic, dry-farmed, and even some biodynamic preparations, such as 500 and 508, which is used constantly to combat mildew. The idea was to make delicious, low ABV wines in a totally natural way from grapes unique to their interior microclimate. All done in stainless steel, small production by hand, with no SO2 at all.

100% Alicante Bouchet with carbonic maceration. A dark rosé/chillable red style. Little bit barny, blackberries, some smokey notes, and some bottles have a touch of natural spritz~13% ABV.
